CHP Warns of Holiday Traffic Crackdown

Magill Orders All Officers on Weekend Duty

"There is no excuse for traffic violations and violators will be cited in an all-out effort to control the July Fourth traffic accident problem," Captain Russell R. Magill, California Highway Patrol, warned today.

"Adjust your driving to traffic conditions if you wish to enjoy safety on the highway this Fourth of July," he urged.

"DRIVING WHILE under the influence of alcohol, excessive speed for conditions, lack of common courtesy, and failure to drive with the normal flow of traffic are some of the more frequent errors made by drivers in holiday traffic," stated Magill.

"We will use every available traffic officer in an attempt to keep our accident rate down this holiday weekend."

"Special enforcement attention will be given to the more hazardous violations although no violations will pass unheeded," the captain continued.

"Every driver using the roads in this area will do well to make a definite effort to follow carefully the rules and regulations applying to traffic," Magill pointed out.

MAGILL SAID that all days off have been cancelled as have all vacations. Every man will be on the road enforcing the traffic laws, the captain reiterated.

There are some 55 officers assigned to the Contra Costa Office of the California Highway Patrol, Officer William Hamilton said.

"All drivers will receive firm, fair and impartial treatment, but the drinking driver must keep in mind that new laws call for not less than 30 days nor more than six months in prison on first conviction of drunk driving, the captain proclaimed.

IN ADDITION to the prison term section 502 of the vehicle code calls for fines of not less than $250 nor more than $500 on first conviction.

Second conviction demands not less than five days nor more than one year and fines of not less than $250 nor more than $1,000.

Felony drunk driving, if anyone is injured while a person has been drinking, calls for one to five year prison terms and/or $250 to $1,000 fines.

Wettest Year Ends With 36.21 Inches

The wettest "weather year" in more than four decades ended Monday with a total rainfall of 36.21 inches, according to Observer Ray Whittemore.

July 1, each year, is the beginning of the calculations for weathermen in the central county.

The heavy rains in December and January caused flooding of homes and businesses, and financial losses were high in the hardest hit areas.

But, clear skies have been prevalent in the central county in recent weeks, with occasional rain.

Here are the highs and lows:

$270,640 Budget Accepted By Transit District Board

A budget of $270,640 was approved with one dissenting vote Tuesday by Directors of the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District (ACT).

Contra Costa and Alameda County taxpayers will pay a rate of 1.3 cents per hundred dollars of assessed valuation.

THIS WILL bring a total revenue to the district of $211,000. The remainder of the monies necessary to balance the budget will be derived from unspent monies made available to the district during the past fiscal year.

The total budget is approximately $121,000 higher than last year, according to Alan Bingham, information officer of ACT.

The budget provides that the district will be in full operation by mid-1959.

"However," Bingham noted, "being in business depends on passage by the voters of a bond issue at the November elections."

SIX DIRECTORS of the district voted for the proposed budget with J. Howard Arnold voting it down. Arnold had proposed a budget including approximately $100,000, but the motion of the $300,000 plus budget died for lack of a second.

Included in the new budget are such items as paying for the legal cost of determining the true worth of Key System.

THE AMOUNT of $54,000 will be paid to the state for the Public Utilities Commission report. This study will be underway in the near future, according to district spokesmen.

AN ADMINISTRATIVE salary fund was established with a budget item of $28,000. The district established an administrative planning committee Tuesday with intent of hiring a general manager and several assistants.

The committee is headed by Bill Bettencourt with directors Paul Deadrich and Bob Copeland as members.

The district is now receiving applications for the position of general manager, Bettencourt commented.

A GENERAL contingency fund of $21,400 and an election fund of $37,000 were established in the new budget.

A special fund was allocated by the directors for publications and information services.

The amount allocated was $12,000.

John McDonnell, chairman of the finance committee which made the budget proposal, said his group pared more than $40,000 from a preliminary budget draft before offering it to the Board.

"Even though the District needs considerable more funds than last year in order to get into actual operation, the budget has been held down to the minimum," McDonnell said.

"THE FRACTIONAL increase in the tax rate is good indication of the committee's effort to hold the line on spending."

An estimated timetable of the events that was used to help draft the new budget is as follows:

August, 1958 — Completion of district's mass transit plan by De Leuw, Cather & Company.

November, 1958 — Submission of the plan to the voters in the form of a bond issue to purchase operating equipment and other major properties.

January-June, 1959 — Marketing bonds; administrative planning; employment of staff to meet operational needs; detailed engineering studies on operational plan, and purchase of facilities and equipment.

July, 1959 — Commencement of transit service by the district.

No Music, No Speaking at Unusual Church Service

By NORMAN COLBY

That Christianity knows no language or race barriers is apparent during a special service held every third Sunday afternoon of the month at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Walnut Creek.

There is no music. There is no speech. The only sound is the movement of worshippers while kneeling or moving to and from their seats.

And that sound is heard only by the curate — the Reverend Mr. Robert Tsu — who originally proposed that these strange services be held, and who has conducted them since last fall.

SUCH SERVICES, if not unique in California, are very rare. There are very few ministers who in their training have become accomplished students of "Dactylography," that is, the use of the finger-alphabet.

About half a dozen residents who are deaf, and in some cases, mute, attend the rites, which never vary, since changes in each service would make following them more difficult. Mr. Tsu has hopes that others will learn about his service held in the chapel of the original church building, and will attend as guests.

He said, "I was able to learn the language of the fingers at the seminary. There was a graduate student there who was deaf, and he would teach any student who was interested."

He continued, "I read from the prayer book, and more recently have been giving some simple sermons."

MR. TSU IS an American, but he is a Chinese who obtained his naturalization papers after fleeing from China with his father after World War II, and the rise of the Communists.

His father is the Right Reverend Andrew Tsu, formerly the bishop of Victoria near Hong Kong. The bishop is now retired and living in Philadelphia.

Robert attended high school and college in the United States, attended Trinity College seminary in Hartford, Conn., and did graduate work at Columbia University and the University of Pennsylvania.

The Rev. Mr. Wilfred Hodgkins, St. Paul's pastor, said that the young minister came to Walnut Creek with the highest recommendations last fall, and has been doing fine work since then as Curate, or "One who cures souls."

The services for the deaf and mute will continue, said Hodgkins, as long as there are people who need them. However, since Mr. Tsu is vacationing in Mexico this month, the next service will be the third Sunday in August, or August 17.

Business Directory Due

Orindans will soon have a new business directory.

At the Tuesday noon meeting of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce, at Casa Orinda, Secretary Clarence Betz reported that listings for the new directory and dues statements are now in the mail.

In other business, Raysay Underwood discussed the proposed construction of a garden apartment on his property across from the Orinda Willows.

Members took note that the by-pass is scheduled to open in August and the suggestion was made that Orinda consider a celebration for the opening.

Betz reported that there is a letter going to the county sheriff to ask him to increase his patrols in Orinda at night.

Vice President Irving Leiber presided in the absence of President John Ogden, who was out of town.

FIRST AID for the local department is what the Orinda Women's Club and Jaycees were up to recently when they collected enough money to purchase two more resuscitators. Here Earl Miller, director of the Orinda Jaycees, looks on as Capt. Ernest Hendricks demonstrates and Mrs. Edward Patterson, Women's Club, studies the device. Youth is Eddie Patterson.

Ambulance Service? It's Here, But Time Is Factor

Local residents who are concerned about ambulance service can put some of their fears, at least, aside.

There is plenty of service available, 24 hours a day, and the only concern is how fast it can get there.

The closest ambulance service to Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Alamo and Pleasant Hill is Walnut Creek Ambulance Service which operates an ambulance 24 hours a day, and will make calls anywhere in the area.

A SECOND ambulance is also available, but without a full-time crew.

If the emergency is such that time is not of the utmost importance, a check with four ambulance companies operating out of Berkeley and Oakland established the fact that they are ready and willing to make a call anywhere in this area, any time.

All the East Bay ambulance companies work on the same basis. Acme Ambulance Co., Bay Cities Ambulance, Electric Ambulance and Hospital Ambulance Service, will all make calls in this area for a basic charge of $15 per call plus $1 per mile until 5 p.m.

After that the charge is $17.50 per call plus mileage.

All are radio dispatched ambulances and the closest ambulance to the scene will be dispatched, so time is merely a matter of location and traffic.

WALNUT CREEK Ambulance Company owner Bill Pomeroy estimated that he could be in Orinda with an ambulance within 10 minutes of the time he receives the call, provided his ambulance is not on another call.

He can still provide service if a standby driver is available. "I really feel that there should be an ambulance stationed in the Lafayette-Orinda area," said Pomeroy, "but it is simply financially impossible at the present time."

"If the county would guarantee me 50 or 60 calls a month I would station an ambulance there on 24 hour call. The area could really use it, too, because it is big and growing all the time."

At one time an attempt was made to subsidize ambulance service through the various fire districts, but plans fell through.

Blast Endangers 300 Scouts at Summer Camp

The explosion of a water heater at Camp Wolfboro, Mt. Diablo Council Boy Scouts of America summer camp in the Sierras, started 300 scouts at 2 a.m. Monday, according to reports received here.

The scouts cleaned up the debris and were eating in the dining hall, where the explosion occurred, by Tuesday evening.

NONE OF THE boys were injured.

The building consisting of a large dining room, kitchen and storage room for food supplies, suffered about $5000 damage, according to an estimate made by Charles Wolfe, camping committee chairman.

A large section of roof was blown off, and the kitchen was demolished. A wall of concrete at the end of the dining room was destroyed, and the opposite wall damaged with all windows broken.

A portion of the hot water tank was found near the Stanislaus River more than 200 yards from the scene.

No campers use the building at night.

Cooks and kitchen staff, who normally occupy the building during the day, sleep in tents some distance from the building.

"Everyone pitched in to clean up the mess," stated camp director Zack Russell, "and their cooperation has been just fine." Two other members of the council staff are assisting in camp, Keith Trexler and Robert Jackson.

They are aided by a camp staff of about 40 scoutmasters, program assistants, and maintenance men.

Many a Boy Scout did his good turn yesterday loading trucks with splintered wood and crumpled metal roofing, as well as raking up the area, scrubbing the floors and tables, and the dishwashing area.

Immediate steps are being taken to repair the damage, under direction of Wolfe, Irving Waterbury, Les Simonsen, and volunteer workers.

Lumber, corrugated metal roofing, hot water tanks, and other supplies are being secured by Victor Lindblad, Scout Executive, who visited the scene Tuesday.

Strep Virus Hits County

"An apparent outbreak of serious throat or tonsil streptococcal infections has been reported in the central county area by a number of pediatricians to health authorities."

"Parents can easily confuse this disease with mumps since both are characterized by swollen neck glands. However, strept infections, if untreated, can produce such serious complications as rheumatic fever or nephritis, a kidney disease," according to Dr. H. L. Blum, county health officer.

"ALL PARENTS are warned by the Health Department to seek medical attention if their child seems to have mumps."

"If the disease is a streptococcal infection, early diagnosis and treatment by a doctor can prevent serious and crippling complications," Dr. Blum continued.

A central county doctor informed The Sun that there are several cases of nephritis and rheumatic fever presently being treated at the county hospital.

Another doctor reported that there has been moderate increase in the number of streptococcal infections in his practice.

"WE FIND that the infections are being reported late in the season. There seems to be an outbreak of this type of infection just a few weeks after the swimming pools open," he commented.

All doctors questioned by The Sun stated that parents should contact a doctor as soon as possible should they detect swelling in the neck areas.

A DOCTOR connected with a local hospital noted there had not been any serious cases of streptococcal infection and that not one case of rheumatic fever or nephritis had been reported at the hospital.

"Immediate care is necessary to preclude any danger of serious complications resulting from streptococcal infections," a doctor warned.

Women's Club And Jaycees Aid Firemen

The Orinda Women's Club and the Orinda Junior Chamber of Commerce have announced that the recent drives sponsored by each group have resulted in raising over $600. The money will be used to buy 2 resuscitators and a laryngoscope for the Orinda Fire Department.

"The Junior Chamber raised their money by selling emergency flares at the crossroads the June 15 weekend," according to Eric Nielsen, president.

"The Orinda Woman's Club raised their money in three different ways" says Mrs. Raymond West, Philanthropic Chairman.

The club members and their friends bought a block of tickets to the Orinda Dramatours production, The Sleeping Prince, held in Berkeley May 23-24. Mrs. Edmond Wilford turned the proceeds from these tickets sales over to the fund. Several members held individual coffees at their homes, inviting interested friends and neighbors who made donations.

Mrs. James Evers made these donations and asked Fire Marshal Koch to appear at these coffees to explain the need for and the functions of the Resuscitator.

Mrs. Cal Schaeffer organized a group of Orinda Woman's Club members to accept donations from Orinda residents at the Crossroads shopping centers on Friday and Saturday, May 23, 24.

Many private individuals mailed in their checks for this worthwhile community project. Thank you notes are being sent by Mrs. Herbert Beasley, Corresponding Secretary.

Among these was the following letter, in part: "... support of your very worthy effort to provide another resuscitator for our community—a very genuine and much needed community asset."

We wish also to congratulate your group upon the discernment and intelligence displayed — so evident — in the nature of the projects you sponsor. There is no real need for again making the statement, but I cannot let this opportunity pass, to again also express our warm appreciation for your initial, continuing, and constant support of the new "Orinda Library" project." (signed, Perc S. Brown).

The Orinda Woman's Club and the Orinda Junior Chamber found the overwhelming community response to this drive most gratifying. The hours of hard work and personal sacrifice of both groups in paying off with the wonderful surprise of being able to purchase not one, but two resuscitators. This makes a resuscitator available for every Orinda Fire Station.

Fire Marshal Koch and his department thank each and every person who contributed to and worked for the Resuscitator fund raising drive.

Club Sets Dates

The Orinda Tennis Club announced this week that dues and fees for both new and old members will be due by July 15.

According to the club's secretary, Mrs. Babs Massie, "We hope to see those of you who wish to join at our Men's Singles Tournament, July 12, at the St. Mary's College Courts. The tournament will begin at 9:30 a.m. and the one-dollar entry fee will cover the cost of balls and soft drinks."

Orinda-Broadway Tunnel Freeway Wins 'A' Priority

Construction of a freeway from the Broadway Tunnel to the Orinda Interchange in 1959-60 has been proposed by the State Division of Highways. According to Mel F. Nielsen, chairman of the Contra Costa County Highway Advisory Committee and second district supervisor.

Nielsen informed The Sun yesterday that a plan by the committee for construction of the freeway has won the approval of W. B. Booker, state highway engineer.

THE ADVISORY committee's recommendations on this and 13 other Contra Costa projects will be forwarded to the State Chamber of Commerce, which prepares an annual report on highway project priorities for California Highway Commission consideration.

Booker, meeting with the county group Tuesday night, advised that the tunnel freeway project be given an "A" rather than "B" priority, which means a call for start of construction, rather than merely acquiring right-of-way and presenting of preliminary plans, in the coming year.

He said the tunnel road is now carrying as much traffic as Highway 40, and construction can be speeded because of the absence of a right-of-way problem along the route.

The land is owned by only three parties, he explained.

Booker praised Contra Costa's highway programming, and said it is far ahead of other Bay Area counties in planning new construction.

But, even though $58,336,158 has been received from the state for highway expenditures during the 1957-58 period, the county still has $100,000,000 worth of highway deficiencies, he said.

THE $58,336,158 was the largest amount spent by the state in any of the seven Bay Area counties.

Booker praised the county for bonding itself for $10,250,000 in 1952 to build up its own highway system, and said the State Highway Department is planning every project that the county thus far has recommended.

PG&E Installing Lines on Village By-Pass Project

Line installations by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company may be completed within three days and contractors will be able to continue with grading operations on the Orinda Village Bypass, according to the county department of public works.

The project is scheduled for opening September 1 and is "going just about as scheduled," Warren McCarthy of the county construction department, stated.

The El Toyonal area was being paved yesterday and the Santa Maria area is nearing completion.

"Within two weeks the workmen should be ready to install base rock on the roadbed and then begin construction of the channel lining along San Pablo Creek."

"The channel has already been rough graded," McCarthy commented.

Sanitary District Budget Will Be Discussed Tonight

Directors of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District will consider tentative figures for their 1958-59 budget at a meeting tonight at 8 in the district offices.

A committee was formed several weeks ago to begin discussions.

Last year's total budget figure was $522,416. This includes operations and maintenance, but not bond retirement. Budgeted amount paid for by taxes was $323,210.84.

The directors will also deliberate on the date of the election of two directors. The four year terms of Richard Mitchell and Raymond Fisher Jr. are expiring.

The election is usually held in September. Petitions of nomination will be obtainable later this month.

Driver Kills Faithful Dog, Gets Away Safely

Nine month-old Janet Naney is without her "Cop", an 11 month-old German Shepherd who was her faithful companion, until he was killed under the wheels of a car, Tuesday morning.

"Cop" was a beautiful, full grown dog who had been purchased by Janet's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Naney of 2081 Herron Avenue, Walnut Creek, just before Janet's arrival. Their express purpose was to provide Janet with the kind of a protector that an infant seems to understand the best.

And "Cop" had been just that. Residents of the area just south of Walnut Creek had been concerned about marauding cars which were exceeding the 35 mph speed limit, and a County Traffic Survey indicated that there is a problem.

And they had been unhappy when a month before Cop's death another German Shepherd, owned by residents of Crest Estates Drive on the other side of South Main Street, was killed by a car.

In neither case did the driver stop.

Cop was found at 10 a.m., Tuesday, crumpled in the middle of Rudgear Road. He was still alive, but there were injuries on his head, and side. He died soon afterwards.

"Cop" was fully grown, and large enough to be easily seen on the road. He weighed about 100 pounds.

Residents said that they have requested the aid of the California Highway Patrol, since their small children are also prey to the same type driver who would run over "Cop" and leave him to die.

Hoodoo Day Not a Jinx

Though some people may look with disdain on the legend of Friday the thirteenth, Richard J. Wagner, life insurance representative at Orinda, knows there are many others who don't.

On Friday, June 13, Wagner wrote 52 applications for accident and health insurance.

The record was compiled in conjunction with the observance of Hoodoo Day, a nationwide accident and health insurance campaign.

Rotary Intercity Meeting Held at El Nido Rancho

The first intercity meeting of Central Contra Costa County Rotary for the year 1957-58 was held at El Nido Restaurant in Lafayette Thursday with John Lindberg, president of the host club, presiding.

Lindberg said, "There is an appeal in Rotary that makes busy men willing for a time to lay aside their pressing personal problems. We believe that with an increased measure of intercity cooperation our clubs can exert an ever greater influence for good than they have in the past."

District Governor William Palmer declared, "The heart of Rotary is in the individual club. It is indeed encouraging that I can be present at a meeting of this kind giving such tangible expression to the cooperative activity of Rotary."

Lindberg praised work of the guest speaker, Henry J. Brunner, both as a Rotarian and as an engineer.

Declaring that Brunner is "one of Rotary's immortals," Lindberg pointed out that he is not only a founder of Rotary Club No. 2 in San Francisco and one of its past presidents, but a past-president of Rotary International.

As an engineer, Lindberg said, Brunner is credited with helping "to mold architectural and engineering concepts of his time."

Grand Jury Report Stresses Full Time Government

(This is a continuation of the 1957-58 grand jury report, the first half of which appeared in last week's Sun.)

"It is the consensus of the members of this committee that the Public Works Department is a well organized and well integrated division of County government."

"A problem not peculiar to this Department alone is the salary scale of their technical employees. While other departments may use limited quantities of professional employees, the Public Works Department has set their goals on the standard of procuring registered engineers. Higher pay rates in this Department are dependent upon the young graduates' ability to obtain their professional licenses. "One of the pressing problems of the Public Works Department is the procurement of adequate space for its personnel, their desks, files, drawings and other records. It is hoped that the Records Building will result in a better distribution of space for this Department."

"Several studies are underway for the road needs of our County over the next several years. Each study group must be furnished with records, maps and other details by the County Public Works Department. "The Tudor Report" which is a contracted engineering study of needs of this County for freeways and expressways is expected to be completed this year and will serve as a guide to future planning of the County roads and road budgets."

"As budgeted funds will allow, the Traffic Division should be expanded so that more studies can be completed of the traffic densities on the various roads of the County. This division could be very helpful as consultants to the various cities in the County in their traffic problems."

"The relationship of these city and county surveys should facilitate future projects if handled by this division. It is possible, also, that with recommended expansions in this division, long-range traffic planning for the County which is now being contracted could be effectively projected by the Public Works Department."

Reporting on road conditions in the second and third supervisory districts the committee stated:

Supervisor Mel F. Nielsen—Second District

"The roads in this Supervisory District are in reasonably good condition with a few exceptions. With this district stretching from Crockett through to the South-eastern end of the county all extremes of road development are found; from the old well-established roads to areas that must be planned for new roads."

"The most obvious point of concern is the recent sliding of banks on the Crockett Boulevard section of the Cummings Skyway. Even fill areas are beginning to settle in many places in addition to bad slides already giving major headaches to road maintenance crews."

"It is the Committee's considered opinion that in view of the access road to be built from the new State Freeway to a portion of the Cummings Skyway, studies should be continued to determine the level of maintenance that is required on the Crockett Boulevard section."

"There are many reasons that would emphasize the utility in trying to retain a high level of maintenance on this road, based only on the short history since the Skyway was completed. This Committee therefore recommends that, if necessary, outside experts be retained to provide additional studies on soil conditions and anticipated usage of the Crockett Boulevard section of the Skyway."

"Several additional roads in the Moraga, Lafayette, Orinda area are in the planning stages and some are on the drawing boards. Among these is the Shepard Canyon Freeway and the new low level tunnel with its Burton-Alameda Freeway. These projects represent advance planning for the area and reflect its expected growth and development. Close cooperation with State Highway Officials is necessary to be able to take advantage of their planning and rights-of-way procurements."

"A new road that has been recognized as desirable is an extension from the Crow Canyon Road north to Moraga. For long-term planning this road will surely be required. When right-of-way funds can be made available plans for this road should be finalized and construction started to coincide with the completion of the Shepard Canyon low level tunnel."

Supervisor Ray Taylor—Third District

"In general the roads in this District are in quite good repair. New roads constructed in this area are installed to conform to standards resulting from soil and materials testing by the Public Works Department and except for isolated spots, appear to be holding up quite well."

"Freeways are planned to conform to building and population saturation for the area and are designed to carry predicted future weight and traffic loads. Considerable use of aerial photography is being employed to lay out new roads and freeways which has proven to be economical when new tie-in roads are required."

"The District has the largest unincorporated residential sections in the County. Many of the streets were installed before the subdivision ordinance was enacted and are therefore requiring some maintenance. Some residential areas have been annexed into the City of Concord without the streets which must be repaired at County expense before they will be annexed and maintained by the City."

RECOMMENDATIONS:

"1. The program of reviewing road survey histories and the installation of permanent markers is recommended to be continued with the knowledge that future survey for roads and freeways will thus be accelerated."

"2. Establishment of a Revolving Fund for the acquisition of Roads and Freeways Right-of-Way be authorized as soon as practicable."

"3. Serious consideration be given to the centralization of the Public Works Department of all leasing and procurement of county real estate for the various county departments."

"4. Studies be instituted soon by the Board of Supervisors to determine the feasibility of consolidating the following County Departments under the Director of Public Works:

- a) Airport Development
- b) Building Maintenance
- c) Building Inspection

"5. The Public Works Department should publish an annual report of the major road and study expenditures and the status of some of the major highway construction projects."

"It is also recommended that the report include a tabulation of the expenditures for the several divisions of the Public Works Department including some of the Department's problems and objectives."

"6. Elimination of "Road Fund Accounts" for the five Supervisory districts is recommended. Maintenance expenditures for County roads should be allocated upon recommendation by the individual Supervisor after the project has been justified by a traffic density survey, projected increase use of the road, and the knowledge of the structural condition of the road."

"Particular attention and priority should be given the promotion of Marsh Creek Road to a State Highway and the early improvement of Bailey Road."

"7. It is recommended that a study of the economics of operating ferries in the Delta Region of the County be authorized."

"8. A steady expansion of the Traffic Engineering Division of the Department should be budgeted annually. Increased use of this division is anticipated and its expansion should be promoted in order that more equitable use of County Road funds is attained."

"9. It is recommended that the Public Works Department submit a report to the Board of Supervisors at least once a year on the condition and use of the Cummings Skyway."

"This report should indicate the recommended level of maintenance that is required on the Skyway and its traffic density and compare it to the other roads in the County."

"That portion of the Skyway between Crockett Boulevard and the point of tie-in to the new access road to the State Freeway is expected to have a reduced traffic load after completion of the connection to the Freeway, and therefore should be reconstructed with these conditions in mind in the basic design."

"Considerable attention must be given the Cummings Skyway to make certain that the high maintenance costs of this year are not continued."

"10. High priority of study by the Public Works Department is recommended on the forthcoming City, County and State Cooperative road study. This report will cover present and future road needs."

"An urgent present need is the Sanko extension of the Willow Pass Extension. Present preliminary studies indicate considerable benefit to the new Pleasant Hill High School and Diablo Valley Junior College School areas as well as the central area of the valley will result from an early completion of this road."

P. B. WILLIAMSON, Chairman

CONTRA COSTA COUNTY HEALTH DEPARTMENT

"The County Health Department, administered by Dr. Blum, seems to be working in an efficient and orderly manner."

"The new county food ordinance, which is enforced by a very small staff has not been in effect long, but is proving beneficial by the results."

"All active dumps in the county are of the cover and fill type and the only problem seems to be lack of control over garbage collections."

"County dog control is now being administered by the Sheriff's Office. As this is a recent change, the committee feels it is too early to comment on any effects this change-over may have had on the efficiency of the present program."

"Water being delivered from underground strata is being watched closely for contamination to insure pure water to users."

Recommendations:

"1. The Board of Supervisors franchise all garbage collections in the county."

"2. All garbage trucks have covers to prevent refuse being lost on streets and highways."

CORONERS
"All morticians in the county were contacted by mail and with the exception of one, expressed satisfaction with the new rotation system. The exception being, that in cities with more than one mortician, rotation should be on a month-by-month basis or even a three-month basis instead of case-by-case."

Recommendations:

"1. Time period rotation in areas where feasible instead of case rotation."

"2. Consideration of installation of morgues in district and County hospitals instead of using private mortuaries for this purpose."

HOSPITAL DISTRICTS

The three existing hospital districts in the county are as follows:

West Contra Costa Hospital District (Brookside, in San Pablo) Pittsburg Community Hospital District (Pittsburg Community Hospital) Concord Hospital District (Concord Community Hospital)

"These hospitals seemed to be well run, and employee morale high, although the Concord Community Hospital is apparently too small to adequately meet the needs of this rapidly growing community."

The Contra Costa County Hospital and Clinic in Martinez is administered by County Medical Director Dr. George Degnan who, with his staff, was very cooperative in showing the committee all phases of the operation of the hospital which were found to be excellent."

"The California Public Assistance Medical Care Program passed by the 1957 State Legislature. The merits of the Plan are questionable because:

"1. Cost of program is two to three times what it was under the "County Medical Service."

"2. It's questionable whether standard of care has been improved."

"3. The increased cost is not due entirely to the direct increased cost of medical services but much of the money goes for unnecessary administration at both State and County level."

"4. Contra Costa County was already giving a good standard of medical care to ambulatory outpatients. The hospital is much more in need of financial assistance for building a program for care and rehabilitation of the chronically ill patients."

"5. There should be more local authority on how monies are to be used. The State Board would seem more rigidly authoritative than helpfully authoritative."

"6. William McDougall, State Representative for County Supervisors State Association," has expressed the view publicly that the organization which he represents is concerned about the pyramiding costs and many confusions of the program."

"7. Eleven Counties have withdrawn from the State Program. "A recommendation of the 1955-56 County Grand Jury to establish a training course for ambulance drivers would be very hard to institute, as the county has no ambulances; all are privately owned."

"... the Psychiatric Observation Ward's "open door" policy is a model in this type of care and many people in that field visit the ward to study its operations. Of interest also is the fact that since the Board of Supervisors moved to take advantage of the allocation of State funds to counties establishing mental health programs in compliance with the "Short-Doyle Act" it was found that the County Hospital is in compliance with most of the Bill's requirements."

"The County Hospital's building program is on a pay-as-you-keep-up with the need even though last year was a peak year in hospital census. However, the two old brick buildings which house the aged have been condemned for some time and should be replaced."

"The appearance of the grounds is deteriorating since the Board of Supervisors contracted the care to a private firm."

"One of the recommendations of last year's Grand Jury, namely, adequate identification of and accountability for equipment and similar assets be established, has been acted upon by the establishment of an excellent stores staff."

"As of June 30, 1957, the accounts receivable of the County Hospital were $518,649.04 (from Contra Costa County Grand Jury Departmental Review and Recommendations for fiscal year ending June 30, 1957 by C.P.A. Glen Whalen). Regarding this, the committee recommends:

a) All billings should be made as soon as the charges are determined."

b) Accounts that are not collectible be written off after proper authorization."

"It is assumed since the Board of Supervisors has contracted collections to a private firm, that collections will improve."

Recommendations:

"1. Exploring the possibility of establishing a small park with comfort stations in the grove of trees facing Alhambra Avenue."

"2. Accelerate work on the Procedure Manual and put it in use as soon as possible."

"3. Recommendation regarding accounts receivable in the above be instituted."

"4. The Board of Supervisors give serious consideration to County withdrawal from the "State Public Assistance Medical Care Program."

Alice Proves 'Typical' in Most 'Unique Manner Yet!'

By FRED HILL

"Alice, you think you'd be interested in being a Phi Beta Kappa?" we inquired, referring to the nation's oldest college club.

"Oh... I guess so," she said, "But on the other hand it'd probably be too much 'sweat.'"

WAS THIS a typical teenager talking loosely about a highly revered scholastic society? Well, not quite.

Alice Woolf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Woolf, 20 Hidden Valley Road, Orinda, is anything but typical. The perky 17-year-old blonde is well-liked by her classmates; despite the fact that she graduated in the top five per cent of her Acaianes High School class, making mostly A's... "Except for a couple of B's in algebra" she said.

and county properties has reviewed the properties in the various areas throughout the county during the past year.

VETERANS' MEMORIAL BUILDING

"The condition of these buildings was of concern to the members of the committee because of the cost of maintenance."

"The budget set forth for the year 1957-58 in the amount of $11,654 was only a minimum amount necessary to maintain them. The main concern of the committee buildings and the cost to the taxpayers in the future for recapitalization."

"The committee feels that the County should definitely consider the disposition of these buildings and the elimination of the problem of maintenance. A logical solution suggested by the committee is as follows: The various buildings which are in the incorporated areas, now the County should be given to the cities and the responsibility for maintenance and recapitalization assumed by the local population of each area."

"It is recommended that one firm of accountants should not be employed for more than two succeeding years and that the opportunity to do this accounting job should be offered to all firms of certified public accountants who would be interested in making such an audit."

"It is further recommended that Francis Collins, District Attorney of Contra Costa County, be asked to draw a bill to be presented to the Legislature by our representative amending the present law to allow the Contra Costa County Grand Jury to include in its audit the reclamation districts within the County."

CRANE WALDEN, Chairman.

JUVENILE AND PROBATION

"Members of this committee investigated operations of the Contra Costa County Juvenile and Probation Department in the following manner:

1. Held several discussion meetings with the Director of the department and various members of the staff on

a. The activities, program and problems of the juvenile section of the department; and

b. The adult probation department program and procedures."

2. Toured Contra Costa County Juvenile Hall.

3. Visited a juvenile court session with Judge Taylor presiding.

4. Spent a full day visiting:

a. The Santa Clara County Boys' Camp.

b. The Alameda County Boys' Camp."

"As a result of the field trips and discussions, the committee concurred in the following:

"1. The juvenile and adult probation programs are being handled capably and well. The staff is of high caliber and sincerely interested in the welfare of those in their charge."

"2. The committee found Juvenile Hall subject to severe crowding."

"The establishment of a rehabilitation camp for boys, and later, one for girls, would greatly ease this problem. After the visits to the Santa Clara and Alameda County camps and checking results of the work of other such camps in California, the committee requested the Grand Jury to transmit a letter to the Contra Costa Board of Supervisors, requesting that the establishment of the Contra Costa County Boys' Camp be accomplished as soon as possible."

Respectfully submitted, PETER HOWARD, Chairman.

PURCHASING, SUPPLIES AND INSURANCE

"The committee feels that this department is functioning most satisfactorily. The number of employees total six and the volume handled last year was approximately $3,500,000. The various County department heads prove most helpful in the purchasing program. The office would necessitate more help if this were not the case."

RICHARD G. NOURSE, Chairman.

AGRICULTURAL AND AIRPORT

AGRICULTURAL:

"The County Department of Agriculture seems to be in good operation, controlling all inspections that are its functions. Rodent control is improving, due to the great amount of effort expounded by the department."

"Weed control is of utmost importance and greater effort should be made toward eradication and less toward suppression. Each land owner should be compelled to cooperate with the department, and upon refusal the department should have the authority to hire help and bill the land owner."

"The excuse that 'It is too late for this year, wait until next year,' has lost its usefulness and should never be used."

Active outside of her scholastic attainments, Alice was a member of the newspaper staff at Acaianes and in the Girls Athletic Association.

Around home she loves to swim, collect records, read current books... and, like it or not, play baseball. One of her greater avocations is painting, somewhat to the dismay of others, since her forte is abstractions."

"JUST LIKE to do them," she told us.

At Acaianes she majored in Spanish, English and Art, she told us. Her Spanish proficiency, has netted her a scholarship worth $350 in the state and she hopes to enter the teaching profession after studying art and language in college."

Alice attributes much of her liking for Spanish to her teacher, Charles Donna, under whose tutelage she earned the highest score on the four-year national-level examination."

When she enters the University of California, she'll be going in with academic honors given only five entering freshmen."

THIS SUMMER, when she isn't painting, or playing with her dog, Caesar, or engaged in her many other rich and varied activities, Alice will be starring in her family's own production of "You Touched Me" which was recently produced by the Berkeley Community Theater."

Alice's father operates the San Francisco blocking studio, and prior to that operated the same business in Berkeley."

ALICE WOOLF'S dog Caesar seems to be a little bored with it all but Alice gives with a pert smile for The Sun cameraman. Alice recently won a top scholarship in Spanish competition and will enter college this fall. She's the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Woolf, Lafayette. —Sun Photo by Dave Ogden.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

Oh say can you see

By the dawn's early light — The magic hours, to be up w/ the birds & out w/ the gophers . . . The world seems fresher, the sky more spacious, the air much sweeter.

The tranquil time . . . and the Owls calling it a night. Their court- ing calls of "Who's Your Whoosis?" fade into the forested hillsides & a solemn-faced hooter w/ a six-foot wing spread, seeing you, suddenly soars to some distant "Do Not Disturb" place. The flowers nod a Thanks for a much-needed drink after a "hangover" from yester- day's heat. And the bluejays & bees are out & about on their morning beat.

OH BEAUTIFUL FOR SPACIOUS SKIES . . . A big airliner like a giant silver eagle eases across the red, white & blue sky . . . and you ponder the people UP there, going & coming from faraway places, while they ponder you below, just a dot on the patchwork quilt aerial view of this Big, Wide Wonderful World. The helicopter, on its sun-rising run, hedge-hops over the house & you remember one pilot, looking down on us, calling it the "Pool's Paradise" . . . He'd never seen so many darn swimming pools in all his life. And aren't we the lucky ones, the privileged people . . . who swim & barbecue & play & pamper ourselves all the year round, but are Usually in SUCH a hurry doing it that we forget we are . . . the envied lot, the fortunate few.

Once in a while, aren't you tempted to find an old "Swimming Hole" somewhere . . . ? But bathing in the bare for little boys, like Treehouses in Atherton yards for little boys, is passe', taboo, and Gone w/ the Winds. Many a Native recalls beautiful Orinda Park Pool back in the '30's when it was a glorified swimming hole, complete w/ tired old tire tubes & soggy old Sneakers still kicking around the muddy bottom. We'll mind Mr. Koch & forget the "fireworks," but darned if we don't get a yen to hold a sparkler again and make de- signs w/ it in the dark.

American the beautiful . . .

FOR AMBER WAVES OF GRAIN . . . And sky-high weeds, Tall as Soldiers at the wayside, sending seedpods popping & dropping into your FINE garden . . . The beige bosom of Mother Earth—in Cali- fornia, the special color of oatmeal, never quite that same shade any- place else in the U.S.A.

FOR PURPLE MOUNTAIN MAJESTY . . . a drive from Grizzly Peak, down past the stables, that sudden steep drop & that breath- taking view, wild & woolly as All-American. The kids half-expecting Cowboys & Indians to go whooping by. Your City Visitor, aghast at the bigness, the heights, the roller-coaster roads, exclaims "Where ARE you taking us?" and is soon surprised to see such jewel of a Fool's Paradise & Populace smuggled in between stretches of bare mountains.

AT THE TWILIGHT'S LAST GLEAMING . . . The Sun, obscured, still casting 24-karat reflections . . . Houses on high hilltops sparkling like Sutter's Gold . . . The little helicopter, now hieing homeward, it's red light followed carefully by the fellas studying the stars & space as they TRY to get to sleep outdoors in their sleeping bags. From the quiet night, sudden salvos of American motherhood pen- etrating the peace, "If YOU boys don't get to sleep immediately, etc., etc.," and 5 min. later, a father's futile threats to boys who are still too wide-awake from the wonderment of Infinity.

SHE'S A GRAND OLD FLAG . . . and she flutters beautifully & proudly from the flagpole at the Perc Brown's Camino Don Miguel home. Instead of keeping up w/ the Joneses let's keep up w/ the Browns. A flag flying from each patio, where we seem to have plenty of room for Chaise Longues from Hong Kong, Lanterns & hibachis from Japan, birdbaths from Brussels, Marble from Italy, hammocks from Caracas, garden tools from England, but NOT for the Most Important Thing, Made in U.S.A.!

YANKEE DOODLE DANDIES . . . The Hill-Billy-hatted char- acter sporting a black beard & bouncing along in his black Model T open roadster . . . American as Apple Pie & Horatio Alger, two Sleepy Hollow boys, Pat Neeland & Ken Hamberg, doing a brisk business in the Koolaid Dept. at their "Covered Wagon Inn" stand on the road to SH Park last week . . . The American sound of Dixie- land music, to ring out at the Park Pool's Fourth Party tomorrow, supplied by a group of boys—Scott Tyler, Tody Merriam, John Sease, our boy Chip, and Chief Instigator Danny Williams who'll All play together for the first time.

Of thee I sing . . .

UNCLE SAM SIGHTEM . . . A Foreign car ferrying a very homemade American redwood doghouse on a trailer, through the village & home to Fido who preferred HIS unsplitt-level. Grrr! Just a simple house & a simple pooch who didn't want to "put on the Dog."

Eleanor Lathan, Moraga School teacher of Brookwood Rd., is limping around on a sprained ankle suffered during a Gunny Sack race at Herrick Hosp's picnic at Tilden Sunday. After today she'll have plenty of company, sprained ankles & sack races going w/ the Fourth just like picnic hampers of potato salad & Ants.

Beryl Hoyer w/ news of her visiting relatives from England, Dorothy Barden & Anne Sanford a duo, Dorothy looking fine & fashionable in spite of the recent shak- ing-up she & Lance took in an accident returning from Seattle. Controller is Second Only To Governor in California

How many citizens of California are aware of the many ways the State Controller touches their lives?

Certainly the Controller's role in California is the least known of any statewide elective official. Yet the wide scope of his power and influence makes him second only to the Governor in the range of his administrative responsibilities.

The Controller is the chief fiscal officer of the state. He keeps the state books. He controls the expenditure of state funds, sign- ing checks and warrants every day totalling $15 million. Not one cent can be drawn from the Treasury without the Controller's authorization. This is why the Controller is often termed "The Treasury Watchdog."

Beyond this, the Controller jointly administers 16 boards and commissions affecting the lives of every citizen and the fortunes of every business.

These include the Board of Equalization, Franchise Tax Board, State Lands Commission,

State School Building Finance Board, Highway Finance Board, and the Veterans Finance Com- mittee.

It is an undisputed fact that the Controller has more influence on tax administration than any other man in California. He has great responsibilities for the financing of the state school system affect- ing the education of our youth.

He has a leading financial voice in extending farm and home aid to veterans. He exercises author- ity regarding financial aid to the aged. Together with two other officials, he is responsible for signing oil leases on public tile- lands. He has joint responsibili- ties in the investment of state funds. And he makes more ap- pointments than any official except the Governor.

These just touch the high spots. But they serve to point up how important and far reaching is the State Controller's office.

McLaren Mans Battle Phone

Manning a battle phone in the combat information center of the missile cruiser USS Can- berra, is Midshipman McLaren, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Kenneth McLaren of 42 Caminolenada, Orinda. A graduate of Acalanes High School, Midn. McLaren is a student at the U. S. Naval Academy.

He departed Norfolk, Va., June 6 for a two-month training cruise to Northern Europe.

Before returning to Norfolk about August 7, he will have re- ceived practical "at sea" experi- ence in seamanship, navigation, engineering and gunnery, to pre- pare him for a commission in the Naval Service upon gradua- tion from college.

Midshipmen will visit Vigo Spain; Goteborg, Sweden, and Amsterdam, The Netherlands, be- tween training operations.

Troop 200

Troop 200 of Orinda has had a change in chairmanship of the troop committee. Bob Bowles, who completed three years as chairman, turned over the office to Chris Harnett at a meeting last week.

Paul Ammen has succeeded Jim Felchlin as treasurer. Charles Backett, scoutmaster, will be leaving the troop, and the committee is hoping to find a man of high calibre who is inter- ested in the scouting program to become scoutmaster. Anyone interested please call Chris Harnett, CL 4-4631.

The news is all over town!

YOU CAN DIAL YOUR OWN LONG DISTANCE CALLS FROM ORINDA PHONES!

Along with its new and larger dial system, Orinda now has Nationwide Direct Distance Dialing. Years of planning have gone into this new service, which lets you dial your own long distance calls! You can pick up your phone and dial direct to cities like Sacramento, San Diego—even Chicago! And of course, low Station-to-Station rates apply for this fast new service.

Suppose you want to call Empire 3-2999 in Sacramento

First dial 916, the Area Code for Sacramento. Then dial the Sacramento num- ber, E-M-3 . . . 2-9-9-9. That's all there is to it!

No Area Code will be necessary for dialing cities in your Home Area, like Liver- more, Vallejo or Monterey. We've sent you a Direct Distance Dialing booklet which lists many of the Area Codes you'll need. Please read it carefully, for it tells where you can dial, and how to do it.

How to call a local number

- Get the number from the new phone directory we've sent you, and write it down so you won't forget it while you dial.
- All Orinda phone numbers now start with the prefix CLifford 4. To let the new equipment speed your calls through, you need to dial this prefix (CL-4) on all local calls.
- So—let's suppose the number you've looked up is CLifford 4-2999. First, dial the prefix C-L-4 . . . then 2-9-9-9. That's all there is to it!

On East Bay calls, you no longer dial the code "99".

- Just dial direct—like a local call. This applies to all Bay Area cities.

Working together to serve you better...

Post Election EBMUD Board Is in November

On November 11, the EBMUD commissioner's post, currently held by Harold W. Saunders of Lafayette, will be up for election. Saunders represents Ward 2 of the utility district, comprised of an area running from Berkeley eastward and including parts of Lafayette and Walnut Creek. Any person in the ward, who wishes to enter the race for the post, may do so by circulating a petition within the ward and having the petition signed by 500 registered voters, who vote and reside in that ward.

Petitions are sent to the secretary of the utility district for certification and are then forwarded to the county so that names can be put on the ballot. Deadline for filing is 40 days prior to the general election in November. The earliest date that petitions may be circulated is 70 days prior to the election. Petitions may be turned in to the EBMUD secretary any time after 65 days prior to the election.

EBMUD commissioners serve without pay, save for $20 a meeting compensation, with a maximum of two meetings a month.

Drat That Mosquito! It's Insect Time Again

By ANNE HOWARD

Insects are still the major study of the Junior Museum program this week. The first year group at the Junior College, under the direction of Ferdinand Ruth, is studying tropical insects. East Contra Costa Junior College has a wonderful and unusual collection of specimens for this study and students are learning lots about them and why they're different from American types.

The advance group, which is doing second year work under Mr. Ruth, will continue their work with microscopes in the laboratory, studying all manner of materials which are different and fun to see.

Both groups plan a Mt. Diablo State Park field trip, the first year students for a talk from Chief Ranger Robert Stewart, and the advanced group for more natural history study. Let's hope it's not too hot for them hunting nature lore on the hillsides of Diablo!

At Walnut Creek School, workshop students are learning the whys and wherefores of preserving their insects. With relaxing jars and mounting boards they're pinning and pressing the specimens they themselves caught!

Among the homes in the area that will soon have nice collections of mounted butterflies, beetles and such are those of David and Megan Smith, Dennie Horgan, Barbara McGeehon, Greg Wood, Polly Perlman, Steven Kramer, Peter Skiff, Susan Curtis, Larry and Tony Tripp, Jean Kelsey, Vicki Gunter, Doug Kelley, Holly and Jeff Borowiack, and Danny Brumfield. All of them having been chasing about for additions to their collections in the local neighborhoods, so don't be surprised to see many butterfly nets at work.

Things are lively in the "zoo department" of the Junior Museum as usual, keeping Ronald Capps and Roger Stark busy. Additions to Ron Capps' leaf nosed snake and case of desert iguanas and whip-tail lizards, a big pond turtle caught and contributed by Greg Loebs, the collection, which is lent out each week to eager borrowers, are another turtle who found a home in our museum's sink when Lucky Ames brought him in, and three pretty bantam chickens from David Brackett.

These new additions find lots of company in the zoo room, and there are always interesting neighbors. A pair of mockingbirds and a gold mantled chipmunk have been added, too, and the room is always open for more.

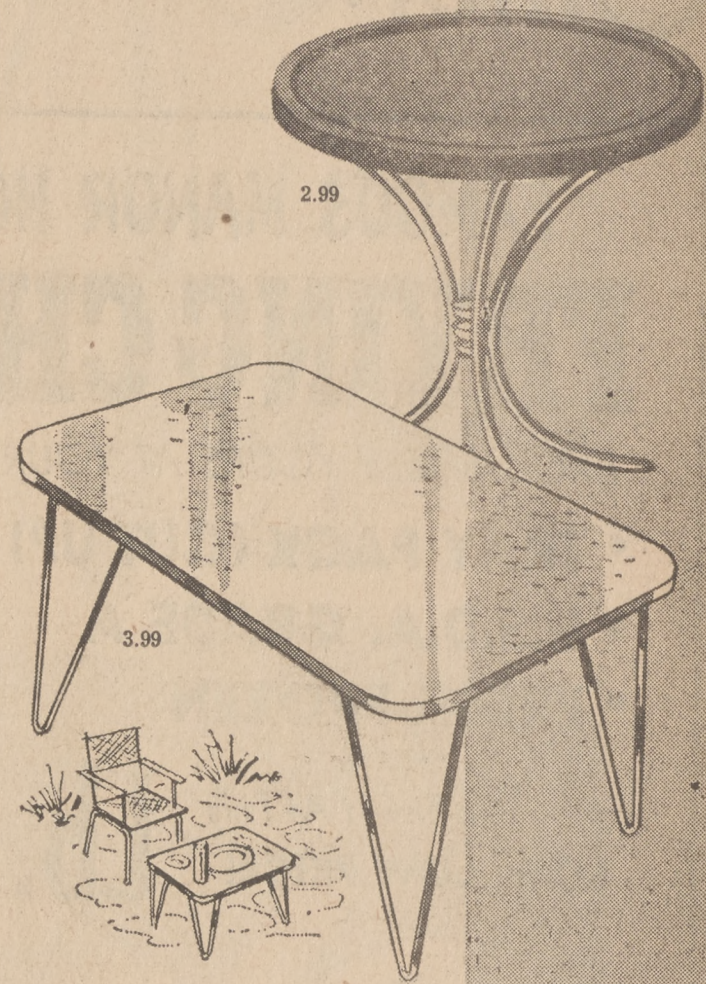

Seen taking a good look at "Sachet the skunk," who spends her summers at the museum and her winters with the Alex Lindsays, were Donald Heim, Leif Ortegren, Marilyn Myers, and John Glick. Something about Sachet just isn't friendly, but she's lots of fun to match.

Something else new will be added soon, when the three baby 'possums being raised by Mrs. Malott of Pleasant Hill, are old enough to join the group. Their mother was killed on the highway, and they're just the orphans for the museum. The snakes and turtle have been busy, too, and 15 eggs are 'a hatching in that department!

All the reptiles in sight will be important next week, when Mr. Goslyn directs the workshop group in a snake and reptile study. Sounds like fun, and should keep everyone busy, so there'll be more news next week...

By PERSIS K. REED AT 3-2405

Summertime is really here—the scent of burning barbecues, the shine of sunburned noses, the creak of muscles being used for the first time in eight months, the turning of the family car into a jitney service, to and from, from and to baseball practice, swimming lessons, riding lessons, summer school.

Starting right in to enjoy the summer is Betty and Loring Hanson's fourth little girl, Rhonda Lynn, who was born on June 20 at Kaiser Hospital and weighed 8 pounds, 7 oz. Her big sisters are Debbie, 7, Sheryl, 5, and Laura, 1½.

Dorothy and Don Allen of Dyer Drive have been in their new home for a few months, and so her sister, Mary Cooper, Orinda, organized a housewarming for them. With cooperation from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Cooper of Orinda, and his folks, Dr. and Mrs. Howard Allen of Oakland, thirty-one friends and relatives surprised them on Sunday afternoon. They had a barbecue dinner, and the Allens received a gift order so they can pick out their own present.

Two weeks ago, on a Monday morning, Norma and Janice Repetto of Janet Lane boarded a plane at S. F., landed in Newark, N. J., that night. They stayed at the Homestead Hotel in Kew Gardens, and Tuesday, they attended the ceremony at the Convent of the Little Sisters of the Poor at Jamaica, Long Island, where Rose, Louie's sister, renewed her vows. This, of course, was the occasion for the trip and Norma and Janice had a wonderful time — first plane ride, first time so far from home on their own — Tuesday night, they stayed at the convent, and Wednesday, went to New York City, and met friends who took them sightseeing — Top of the Empire State Bldg., Statue of Liberty, the United Nations Bldg., Chinatown (all the way to N. Y. to see that?) the Bowery, Gimbal's and Macy's. Thursday morning, on the plane at Newark, slight delay of two hours to correct faulty engine, and thence back to S. F. Thursday night. That little jaunt surely shot this week.

A new neighbor, and another coffee party, Dorothy Lord and Skip Peters, Janet Lane, collaborated to welcome Barbara Arena — Peg Smith, Laverne Howell, Vivian Hicks who has retired to be a sunbathed housewife, Norma Repetto, Diane Vogel, Carolyn Mortensen, Maria Holde, Marge Varrel, Eleanor Wright, were the branch guests (pizza and coffee cake).

The morning was enlivened by the surprise visit of Dorothy and Sid Boyes who were the very first family to live in Lafayette Meadows, where the Compasses live now. They now reside in Torrance down south but wish they were back on Carol Lane — their son, Wally, is now 23 and Ellen, 21 — they were the pioneer baby-sitters, and Wally was the one who built the treehouse in Golding's Oaktree.

Barbara Rena reported at this party that the Cardinal unit, Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, Dutch Auction the day before at the home of Bobbie Burton, Pleasant Hill, had been successful. Barbara and Gene had one, along with Peg and Don Smith, and Carol Hodges.

Vacations are beginning too. The Hassay family of Orchard Valley Lane spent a week driving through Oregon. They went up Highway 101, to Grants Pass, to Diamond Lake (fish so big they broke their lines) and to Crater Lake (lots of snow), through the Oregon Caves which was the highlight for the children, and down to Corning for a few days visit with grandparents. On the second which is no vacation.

Weekenders were the Martys of Anita Court who went up to the Dardanelles for a few days. There is a settlement of Oakley and Waterford people, Anne and Bud's old hometowns, so they have been cabin hopping. Only to San Francisco, but to see the "King and I" and celebrate their 12th anniversary went to Gerry and Bud Mayes. The Millers across the street, baby-sat for them, so the Maynes turned around and sat for them, and off to S. F. to see "The King and I" went the Millers.

His birthday is in January but Ricky Norden of Janet Lane celebrated his ten and a half birthday with a swim party and barbecue and all these kids — Butch Bishop, Jay Reed, Ron Greenwood, Bud Evans, Janice Repetto, Lynda Barron, David Denney, Susan Cauness, Jeannette Caringer, Skipper Peters, Laurie Shepherd, Philip Burtlett, Doug Zundell, Larry Heaton, Larry Cockrell, Judy McConnell, Salty Norden, Andres Greenwood. Huge success!

Corsaut Solos At Pensacola

A first solo flight was made June 11, by Naval Aviation Cadet Jay M. Corsaut, son of Dr. and Mrs. Jay C. Corsaut of 60 Greenwood street, Walnut Creek.

He attended the University of California before entering the flight program at the Naval Air Station in Oakland.

In addition to solo flights, he is being instructed in communications, navigation, engineering, athletics, aerology and civil air regulations during basic flight training at Pensacola, Fla.

Carnique Is Brentwood Celebration

Lion clubs are generally pretty active groups, and the Brentwood bunch is no different from the rest.

Tomorrow the Brentwood Lions Club will present its annual Carnique, which will be climaxed by a tremendous display of aerial fireworks.

The fireworks are scheduled to go off as soon as it is dark enough to make viewing effective.

A barbecued chicken dinner will be served under the trees in the Brentwood Park from 2 to 6 p.m. for $1.50 per person.

Let's Take a Look at Our County Government

In these days of high costs (and sometimes short tempers as a result) it is wise to assess the situation in which we find ourselves.

This applies to life on the home front, where each of us is king of his domain, and to life on our governmental front, where again, each of us has his say.

We have talked about the high cost of government many times in these columns, and have urged taxpayers to keep their eyes on local functions in order to help keep costs down.

WE HAVE ALSO urged each county official and member of any governing board to personally pledge himself to the conservation of funds.

But there is another possibility—one that will bear watching by all of us, and that is in the actual form of government which administers our county affairs.

At present we are a "general law" county, and we operate with a board of supervisors elected by the people of five supervisorial districts.

The county could be changed, if people so wished, to a charter county, which operates under a charter written by a board of freeholders which are elected by the people.

There is, at present, an active group in the county exploring the possible advantages of this form of government for Contra Costa County.

THERE IS ANOTHER possibility, which would really only be a modification of our present form of government, but which might help to streamline our government and provide certain advantages that would result in added benefits from the state.

That is the county manager form of government. It has been pointed out that essentially we are operating under this form now with County Administrator Desmond Teeter actually being the "county manager."

This could be established by the board of supervisors without going to the people for a vote. The county charter form of government would require a two-thirds majority of all county voters.

The State Assembly is at present conducting hearings into the possibility of streamlining county governments, and met in Martinez June 6 to hear what county officials had to say on the matter.

The Assembly is also looking into the advisability of changing the law so that the county clerk, auditor, treasurer, recorder, tax collector, public administrator and coroner could all be appointed by the board of supervisors instead of being elective offices as they are now.

THE STATE Association of County Supervisors has come out in favor of this proposed legislation.

On the surface, it sounds like our county government could use a little streamlining, and perhaps the official county manager form would do the trick, rather than the involved charter form, which has certain drawbacks.

We have run several columns in The Sun on the charter form of government and we feel that it should be investigated very closely.

But so should the county manager aspect. If feasible, it would certainly be less bulky and unwieldy than the charter form, and it might provide what we in Contra Costa County are seeking.

There will be more meetings in the future, by interested groups, and possibly by the State Assembly committee.

We urge you to keep abreast of the situation and consider the ramifications of changing your government.

You might find yourself voting on it one of these days, and it would be helpful to be informed.

So It's HATE HATE HATE!

By DICK OSBORN

Most newspapermen seem to be injured to hardships. This comes from working for editors who have long since renounced humanity and established their true natures, which are like unto the beasts of the jungle.

But every once in awhile, a newspaper man draws apart from the hungry throng and considers those things which he hates beyond all other things—with a hard glowing bright blue flame of wrath.

They are not the big things—like crooked politicians, or people who beat their wives. These kind of people are merely human—they just got caught at their vices.

He hates things like this:

People who staple their bulletins together, so that when you open them you can't separate the pages, and after you've punctured yourself pulling out the bent staples by hand, you have left such a ripped up bit of trash that you can't read it anyway.

People who write on papyrus with white fingernail pencils and expect you to read their message after it has been left on the front doorstep in the rain all night.

Then they phone the editor and ask why their item didn't get in the paper.

People who phone in to complain bitterly about your treatment of an article—never allowing you to get in a word except "but . . . but," and after a 10-minute harangue, when they pause for breath, you explain in a rush: "But lady, the item appeared in another paper it wasn't ours . . ." and then the phone hangs up with a bang in your ear requiring extensive ear treatments during the following week.

The publicity chairman who calls to give you a pet item, which you laboriously take down over the phone, hoping you have all the names spelled correctly, and finding afterwards that "Smith" was really "Smythe," and "Brown" was "Broun." Then the lady calls after the paper comes out to ask when you went to grammar school and why you didn't get the names right—neglecting to account for the fact that she speaks with a lisp and was chewing peanut brittle when she read you the names over the telephone.

The friendly news source who is always walking up and saying: "Don't quote me, but . . ." and then launching into something that you carried in the issue of two weeks ago anyway, only he has garbled the facts so that you have trouble recognizing the story.

And his brother who says "don't quote me," and then is surprised when you do . . . knowing full well to whom he was talking at the time he made the statement. Or his second cousin, who, after the same statement, looks upon you with deep distrust and pain because you DIDN'T print what he said was off the record.

And then there's the news release, which after the publicity chairman has been told how to prepare same, finally shows with a piece of copy typed and double spaced on one side of the paper.

Perfect! Except the paper is either tissue paper, or it is yellow graph paper with fine red and blue lines running all through the copy with quaint notes in red typed at the top and bottom.

And then . . . But, you know, it was kind of fun talking about these things, because if they were all corrected things would sure be dull.

And people wouldn't be human, and editors would lose their ulcers, and reporters couldn't feel mistreated, and we'd all have to go on the 4-day week.

I guess I really like things the way they are. Except for, of course, . . .

Teens Volunteer Vacation Time

Summer vacations are becoming more meaningful to increasing numbers of teenagers, according to Mrs. Stanley Miller of Walnut Creek, chairman of the Junior Branch of the Volunteer Bureau of Contra Costa County, supported by United Crusade and Junior League.

The teenage program under Mrs. Miller's guidance has placed teenagers in many worthwhile projects throughout the central and eastern part of the County.

Placement of the boys and girls includes working with babies in Well-Baby Clinics; handicapped children; school or recreation centers, and social and service organizations, stretching from Diablo Valley, Pleasant Hill, Martinez, Concord, and as far east as Pittsburg.

"We find working with teenagers a rewarding experience. They are serving the community in many positive ways. Their excellent display of good citizenship and sense of responsibility belies the headlines that all too frequently greet us when we read newspapers," Mrs. Miller said.

"We are always reassured by the sincerity and dependability of the younger generation giving so generously of its time and talents."

Assisting in the Pre-Natal Clinic, Child Health Conference, and Orthopedic Clinic at the Pittsburg Health Department are a group of Pacifica High School students. These are Earlene Meeks, Nada Lee Seeno, Dottie Wheeler and Shirley Welch.

Eleanor Burton of Concord will assist in the office during the five week long summer session at Shadelands School, operated by the Contra Costa Cerebral Palsy Society with United Crusade funds.

Margery Revak of Pleasant Hill will assist mornings at the Pleasant Hill Recreation Center, and the Well Baby Clinic in Walnut Creek.

Lilene Long of Walnut Creek will also assist at the Walnut Creek Well Baby Clinic and five mornings weekly will work at the United Crusade office.

Peter Vierra, Jr., is chairman of a Safety Promotion project on a sustaining basis in conjunction with the Green Cross Contra Costa Safety Council.

Peter and other boys, ranging in ages from 11 through 17, members of the Concord-Walnut Creek 4-H Clubs, are trying to check their neighbors and residents for safety checks including mechanical defects, attitudes, etc.

IN CONGRESS, JULY 4, 1776

Thus begins the Declaration of Independence, and thus began for our great nation a way of life founded on freedom. May each of us do our part, that this freedom shall forever endure.

Of Russian Invaders, Kids Ballet and TV Practices

By JOYCE BARNUM

A contingent of 100 Russian people invaded our living room last Sunday night.

Due to their overwhelming charm, we neglected to serve dessert to our Sunday supper guests.

Despite our defections from our host-like duties, we still consider the evening a success.

AMONG OUR Sunday guests was a youth who is an aficionado of the ballet. At the opposite pole, among our guests, was a visitor who has always maintained that ballet is essentially for the enjoyment of women and the effeminate male.

The remainder of our guests and our family held varying opinions as to the merits of ballet. While these viewpoints obviously lacked the enthusiasm of the ballet-minded youth, they were not as anti-ballet as that of our closed minded guest.

When the youth announced his firm intention to watch the Ed Sullivan TV show, which would feature a solid hour of the Moiseyev ballet, his opposite member promptly began to bewail his fate.

FINALLY AN agreement was reached. We would all watch the beginning of the show. If it was too hard to take—back to Hi Fi.

As a prologue, the youth described some of the color and action that he had seen the Moiseyev group portray during their recent appearance in San Francisco.

From the moment that the first dancers appeared on stage, the vigor of the Russian artists intrigued even the detractor of ballet. Moiseyev's choreographic feat of adapting folk dances to the ballet entranced even our youngest nine-year-old guest.

As the hour progressed and the ballet company sustained the initial vigorous pace, the absorbed interest of our guests increased. The vitality portrayed by the youthful Russian dancers delighted us all.

SOME TIME LATER, after our guests had departed, one of the family discovered the unserved dessert reposing in pristine state in the refrigerator.

We were all a little appalled at our mental lapse. Even though we were still under the spell of the ballet and the fascinating discussion that it had instituted, we were reluctant to blame the Russians.

Even though their exuberant dances had interrupted our prosaic routine, we felt that the food for thought that they had presented to our guests and to us surpassed, by far, our planned Sunday supper topper.

Mrs. Renee Dana Elected President of Welfare Unit

Mrs. Renee Dana of Lafayette was elected as president of the Central Contra Costa County, a United Crusade Agency, at luncheon annual meeting. She accepted the gavel from outgoing President William V. Hogan.

All individuals in the community contribute to the United Crusade have the right and the responsibility to view the full utilization of their funds in the actual programs of the Community Welfare Council and its various sections. By all working together, we will make great strides for our common interest," Mrs. Dana stated.

Others who will serve for the 1958-59 period are first vice-president, Mrs. Helen Kelly; second vice-president, Charles D. Gable; secretary, Mrs. Dorothy Flannery; treasurer, Joseph H. Felice.

Other reports were given by the treasurer, Bray; Earl Den Beste of the Family and Child Welfare Section; Gable for the Group Work and Recreation Section; for the Health Section.

Miss Gertrude Wilson, Professor of Social Work, University of California, spoke to the group on "The Community's Role in Welfare Council Planning."

Letters to The Editor

FLOOD CONTROL

DEAR EDITOR:

I was very much interested in an article in the June 14 issue of the Tribune giving some figures on proposed flood control work on the Walnut Creek channel.

The Flood Control District submitted a cost estimate for emergency work to handle a peak flow in the channel of 9,000 second-foot flow totaling $350,000. The previous estimate to handle an 11,000 second-foot flow was $1 million.

As you will recall my position when I was opposing the proposed bond issues, I felt that a moderately lower level of protection would mean a greatly reduced cost of work.

The estimate indicated that both of these estimates were for emergency work (although this was not entirely clear) but a reduction of about 18 per cent in capacity brought a reduction in cost of 65 per cent.

I thought you might want to file this away for any future discussion on the cost of flood control.

ROBERT KAHN.

DEAR EDITOR:

Some time—when elections and election results are again in the background—it appears there is a subject of sufficient importance and merit for The Sun to probe. Mrs. Brown has been deeply concerned for sometime over the possible lack of available ambulance service to and from Orinda and is fearful that some time, or it could be anytime, a tragedy may happen that could strike anywhere in Orinda, and perhaps Lafayette, and elsewhere in this general area.

THE PERTINENT facts have not been developed. She has been told that upon occasions those calling for an ambulance to come from Oakland, Berkeley or Walnut Creek, have been unable to get them to come to Orinda.

Whether this is actually so or not has not been investigated.

Whether or not an ambulance—at the time or times needed—was simply not available, or whether busy elsewhere or not for an urgent run into and out of this area is not definitely known.

A full development of the facts by The Sun, as distinguished from what may be only rumors or unintentional misstatements, would be a worthy project and of great and lasting benefit to the whole area.

It may bring to light facts of potential tragic import that dictate immediate positive correction.

PERC BROWN.

HEALTH

DEAR EDITOR:

It is highly recommended that all individuals who are concerned with the health of children read the June 24, 1958, issue of LOOK magazine.

The story of how the citizens of New Canaan, Conn., repudiated an anti-fluoridation barrage, including Dr. Exner, is an inspirational true story with a truly happy ending.

The author states that the real nature of the opposition to fluoridation ranges from "some skeptical doctors and hard-boiled citizens who just don't want their water tampered with to a weird array of anti-Semites, charlatans, die-hard McCarthyites and flustered old ladies."

On August 27, 1958, San Francisco will be starting on its seventh year of enjoying the benefits of fluoridation for its thousands of children. Certainly this city is to be commended for the intelligence of its citizens in early recognizing the benefits of improved dental health.

The Teacher's Problem . . . Just Where Do We Focus?

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

(This is the second of two articles written by a local high school English instructor concerning the dilemma in which teachers find themselves today.)

One of England's outstanding professors of history recently put tongue in cheek, exchanged his mortarboard and tassel for a fool's cap, and directed his attention to developing a series of "Parkinson's Laws" based his observation of human whimsies and weaknesses.

"The Law of Cocktail Parties" tells the socially mobile character which direction to move and where to stand in a room in order to receive the most attention at a soiree.

Another defines civil service and its pyramids of hierarchy as they developed from the status need of each superior to have at least two underlings, and the underlings each two underlings, etc.

The law of trivialities

A third, "The Law of Trivialities," applies to group action and opinion. Example: a women's club will appropriate $100 for refreshments at a large reception in two minutes of legislative action and spend the next two hours of the meeting debating over the relative merits of ice cream or cake for the dessert.

People are like that. When the larger elements of problems confront them, those more complex in nature, they are likely to focus on the minutiae and ignore or gloss over the pertinent factors.

Municipal government will appropriate a million dollars for a single project more easily than it will pass a measure for adding another washroom in city hall. The cost of the latter is more easily comprehended; it's difficult to visualize a million dollars.

The problem grows more complex

And when it comes to school finance, the public is confronted with what seem to be acutely-strewn images of the most complex problems imaginable. Those citizens who are not budgetary experts pick and choose, for conversation pieces, those areas which they most easily understand; taste prevails as it would at a buffet supper.

School district salary structures, retirement programs, hiring practices, and problems inherent therein escape most conversations of lay people, for they are complex.

At one point in the development of American education, teacher salary was arrived at by individual bargaining—a flashy teacher, a flashy salary (as sparkling as they could get at the time). This subsequently gave way to the salary schedule, an advancement structure with both horizontal and vertical movement allowable.

Horizontally, the traveling is according to the amount of collegiate preparation a prospective teacher has accumulated. Every school district has its own requirements which must be met before a teacher may advance from one classification to the next.

Some ask that one additional semester of graduate work be completed before the candidate moves over a hurdle. Others require nearly a full year's work before an increment can be granted.

Additional college training in acceptable fields of study is added for incentive; most districts evaluate the nature of the units accumulated. When a teacher reaches a point at which he has fulfilled the district requirement for training above the bachelor's degree, he receives an increase in salary. Those increases are established by the individual districts.

There's just no standardization

Governing boards have not yet standardized, on a state or nation-wide basis, what should constitute a sufficient amount of university training to enable a teacher to move, salary-wise, to a higher income bracket.

Some require advanced degrees before increments are granted above and beyond 30 units (one year) of graduate work.

What they ignore is that advanced degrees are obtained more easily at some institutions than others; also, those degrees granted in certain fields are merely tokens of time invested and do not necessarily mean that one has achieved a higher degree of excellence in that particular field. Some require a thesis to be written, others do not.

Vertically, each classification provides yearly increases in salary up to a maximum number of steps. Those who do not take additional training beyond what each district requires must resign themselves to going no further financially.

Nearly every district asks that its teachers acquire more university training; example: six units of work every five years. Whether those units are completed during evening sessions or in the summer is of no consequence.

The basic philosophy is that it is a combination of training and experience which develops the productivity in the classroom. Perhaps.

What the beginning teacher looks at is the starting salary, the older teacher, the maximum. When districts operate in a state of financial distress, whom are they to consider when they attempt to beef up salary schedule?

Is it that they wish to retain the older and more experienced teachers or do they wish to attract new, top-rank talent?

It seems that they must do both in order to operate the kinds of educational systems which the American people demand, even if that demand is concealed in their own shrine of conscience.

And then there's retirement

Of course there is always retirement to consider. And this is perhaps the most complex of all salary matters. Each teacher, according to a formula, contributes to his, own fund out of each monthly check. The rate is established according to the age of the teacher when he begins in the state of California. Should he leave the field at any time, he is able to withdraw what he has paid in (approximately 10 per cent of his yearly salary).

Each district also contributes to the retirement fund on an intricate formula basis—proportioned after the district's assessed valuation or total payroll, whichever produces the lesser sum.

This, like the million dollar project, becomes a matter which is overlooked even by teachers—it is difficult to visualize what one is going to do after 30 years of work which will end with a period of self-interest.

Officials feel that now that the retirement system has been "beefed up" that the same can be done with salaries by adding incentive pay for the superior teacher—a merit system, a bonus for those who do the better job. A recent article on merit systems quotes George Orwell's "Animal Farm" with the intent of showing that it is difficult to evaluate which teachers are producing more than others—unlike the counting of industrial piece-work.

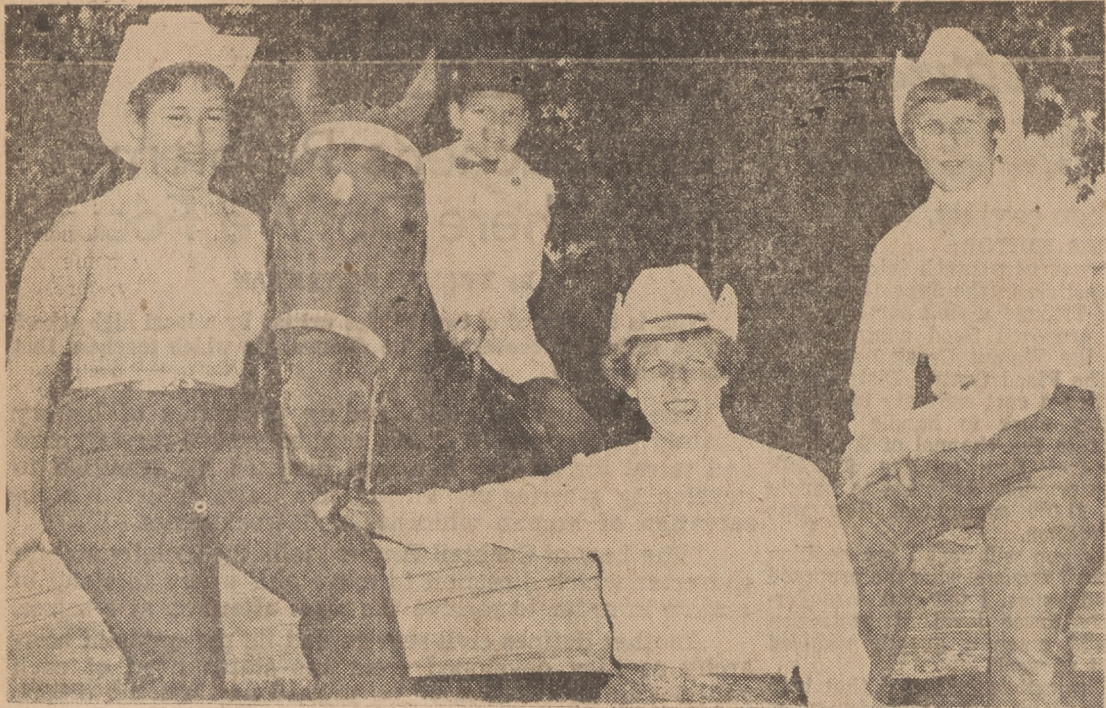

"Once upon a time the members of a school board read George Orwell's 'Animal Farm.' In this book the animals usurped the functions reserved for man. To do so, they rallied round the slogan, 'All animals are equal,' but with greater experience they devised an improved slogan, 'All animals are equal, but some animals are more equal.'"

Rabies Still Posts Threat

"County Dog Immunization mals can and will transmit this Clinics end this week, but the dread disease to man's best need for the protection the vaccine—(the unprotected) dog. If one affords your pets and thus this should happen, chances of your families remains," Dr. H. L. human cases would be greatly in Blum, County Health Officer, creased.

Said today, "Your best protection is to have your pets immunized by a veterinarian." Dr. Blum emphasized.

Contra Costa will continue to be endemic for rabies until one year after the discovery of the rabies in wild animals in Contra Costa over the past few months. This brings to a total of five cases of rabies discovered among wild animals in Contra Costa over the past few months. This will be required for all dogs before licenses can be issued.

Baseball Players Talk Of League Standings

By ERWIN MATTSON

The weekend Ninth District American Legion found Walnut Creek in first place as they split a pair while Richmond did likewise to stay in the number two spot in the standings.

Concord showed strong in a pair of wins to take over the number three slot.

THE LEAGUE, which winds up on July 27, promises to be a race down to the wire. The three top clubs have two losses apiece with Walnut Creek posting seven wins, Richmond six and Concord five.

El Cerrito is next with 4-3; Harry Ells has 4-4; DeAnza 3-4; Lafayette 3-5; San Pablo 2-6 and Rodeo 1-7.

In Saturday's play DeAnza pulled an upset at Walnut Creek tipping the league leaders 4-3.

EACH CLUB collected 10 hits, but Walnut Creek led in the error department four to two where it hurt most.

Batteries for the day were Silveira Keppel (6) and Jay Green for DeAnza with Ransome and Dodge going for the losers.

Concord and Lafayette hooked up at the Acalanes diamond in an extra inning game that went to the visitors when the Lafayette catcher, Jack Carman, interfered with the batter with the bases loaded.

Jim Seyer, who had singled, and reached base when Roy Rose singled and Jim Liggett walked, was forced home with the winning run.

LAFAYETTE had 10 hits and one error. Concord nine hits and an error.

Batteries were: Syler Licht (6) and Barney for Concord; Toll, Krutcher (5) Stram (6) and Carman for Lafayette.

Other league games found Richmond visiting and defeating Rodeo 5-4 on five hits and three errors.

Rodeo had four hits and two errors.

SAN PABLO wound up play at Richmond when they tripped Harry Ells 7-4. Ells collected eight hits to the winners five while each club played loose ball as they each came up with five miscues.

Sunday found Walnut Creek having a good day on the road as they chopped down Harry Ells at Richmond 5-2.

Chick Leson to Headline Racing Card at Vaca Plant

Over 150 cars from throughout the state have been entered for the premier road racing event Saturday and Sunday at the new half million dollar Vaca Valley Raceways, located on Highway 40, five miles east of Vacaville.

Five races Saturday and six races Sunday will be sanctioned by the San Francisco Region of the Sports Car Club of America to benefit the Solano County Firemen's Association Widows and Orphans Fund.

Racing events are scheduled to run from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. both days.

Harry Burd, Vaca Valley Raceways vice president and general manager, commented on the safety trial runs made recently by Sammy Weiss, popular Northern California sports car driver.

"Sports Car Club of America officials and I wanted to make sure that the Vaca Valley Raceway would be as safe and fast in actual use as it was designed to be on the drawing boards."

"I think that Weiss' 140 miles per hour on the straight-a-way and over 110 miles per hour performance on our sweeping banked turn, while driving his 2.5 liter Ferrari, speaks for itself."

A certain amount of difficulty was experienced going into turn two but we feel that we have now corrected this for maximum driver and spectator safety."

Burd added: "We have made arrangements to provide for maximum comfort and safety for 30,000 spectators from the Northern California area."

"Since Vaca Valley is located only 45 minutes from the Bay Area and 25 minutes from Sacramento proper, I feel that we are not exaggerating our spectator estimate," Burd continued.

Enthusiasm among sports car advocates for Vaca Valley's 20-acre racing plant has attracted top drivers, who are eager to try out the new course.

Some of the most popular drivers entered are Sam Weiss, of Sacramento; Chick Leson of Lafayette; Stan Peterson of Oakland; Jack Woodard of Stockton; Frank Crane of San Francisco and many, many other Northern California sports car pilots.

Southern California is well represented by John Von Neumann, Richie Ginther and entered from Arizona is popular Jack McAfee who has never lost a race in his class since the beginning of this 1958 season.

Many drivers have entered their cars in more than one of the 11 racing events which brings the total number of individual performances that spectators will see at Vaca Valley to almost 200.

AUTOMOTIVE PRODUCTION

Automotive factories in the United States produced 2,374,927 motor vehicles during the period from January 1 to June 7 this year. This represented a drop of 1,140,430 from the number of motor vehicles produced during the same period of 1957.

THE WINNER!—It's Welfred King crossing the finish line in the last of the freeway run Sunday. Top amateur athletes from the area competed in the 4-mile event from the El Nido to Acalanes Field. King finished first out of 38.

Full Holiday Schedule Set At Speedway

Racing fans will have a full holiday schedule at Pacheco's Contra Costa Speedway near Walnut Creek here this week.

Bay Cities Racing Association will stage its second motorcycle program of the year Thursday evening and a combination hardtop-midget show Saturday night.

Dick Dorresteyn of Richmond, Leroy West of San Mateo, and Mel Grisel of Hayward head the cycle field. Eighteen races, topped by a 15-lapper, are on the program Thursday, with time trials at 7:00 p.m., the first race at 8:15.

Saturday's card will feature such midget drivers as Johnny Baldwin of San Carlos and Mike McGreevy of Oakland and leading hardtop pilots like Wally Baker of Sacramento, LeRoy Geving of Petaluma and Johnny Franklin and Hugh Purdy of Santa Rosa.

Geving joined Franklin as a three-time winner this year by taking Saturday's main event as Bill Maher of Vallejo, leading for 21 laps, bowed out with a flat tire.

San Francisco's Curly Carr, scoring his first local win of the year in the 15-lap semi main, will be back in action, as well as Carroll Dow of San Rafael, who topped the trophy dash.

Saturday's program opens at 7 p.m. with time trials.

2. You buy your family fruits and vegetables at wholesale prices as a MINIMAX member. You can buy them either frozen or canned, and you can check the wholesale prices against the standard wholesale grocery price reports.
3. You buy your desserts and food specialties items like sliced pineapple at wholesale prices as a MINIMAX member. And you get these wholesale prices every day—every MINIMAX item is a special every day.
4. You can buy almost all the big brand name appliances—refrigerators, ranges, automatic washers, dishwashers, etc.—at wholesale prices as a MINIMAX member. The regular factory guarantees on vital parts, along with delivery to your home, are available to you.
5. You enjoy food with better flavor as a MINIMAX member. MINIMAX has a home food slicer, which enables you to slice your bread, bacon, cheese, and sandwich meats just before you use them—for fresher flavor and the exact thickness your family likes. And MINIMAX frozen foods are naturally superior in flavor, as are MINIMAX meats.
6. You get more vitamins and minerals in your food as a MINIMAX member, especially with MINIMAX frozen foods. The Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation reports that almost all frozen vegetables, fruits and juices retain more vitamins and minerals.
7. You buy drug store items at wholesale prices as a MINIMAX member. This means savings of from 10% to 25%, and even up to 50% on the hundreds of drug items your family uses in a year.
8. You buy cosmetics at wholesale prices as a MINIMAX member. And MINIMAX stocks only the top brand name cosmetics, with savings on famous brand names of 10%, 25%, and even 50%.
9. You enjoy better packaging as a MINIMAX member. For instance, MINIMAX frozen peas and frozen corn pour as easily as sugar. Each pea, each kernel of corn, is frozen separately and you can pour a teaspoonful or pound quickly and easily out of the 2½-pound modern polyethylene bags.
10. You save on car mileage as a MINIMAX member. You can cut out as many as three to four dozen shopping trips a year, and save 10c to 15c per mile in car mileage—MINIMAX even delivers to your home freezer.
11. As a MINIMAX member you do not have to pack home 2½ tons of food a year—you can stop being a pack mule forever.
12. As a MINIMAX member you enjoy a free maid and chef—Mini and Max do most of the food preparation work for you, you just pop it in the pot.

DO YOU NEED A HOME FREEZER TO JOIN?

Some families who are interested in MINIMAX Wholesale Buying Service wonder if it is necessary to have a home freezer in order to join.

The answer is no—you do not have to have a home freezer to enjoy the big MINIMAX savings on drug items, on appliances, and on the canned, bottled, and packaged foods in the MINIMAX Superette. You can save hundreds of dollars a year the MINIMAX member way without a home freezer.

However, you can also save several hundred dollars more per year with a home freezer—and that's worth thinking about. You also give your family better food, with more vitamins and minerals, at lower cost.

The Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation has reported that almost all frozen vegetables and many frozen fruits and juices, retain more vitamins and minerals than canned ones do.

Frozen fruits and vegetables are also fresher than fresh, because they are instantly quick-frozen where they are grown, within a few hours.

"So-called fresh vegetables" are usually from 5 to 7 days old by the time they reach your table, and U.S. Department of Agriculture research shows most of the vitamins and minerals are lost in 3 days at room temperature.

HOW A MINIMAX MEMBER SAVES $350 PER YEAR ON FOOD

Hundreds of Contra Costa families have joined Bill Williamson's new MINIMAX Buying Service, and are saving $800 per year or more on their family budget by buying food, drug items, and appliances at genuine wholesale prices.

Almost all family foods are included in the MINIMAX Wholesale Buying Service—meats, vegetables, desserts, and the canned, bottled, and packaged brands found in supermarkets. The only foods which MINIMAX does not furnish at wholesale prices, plus small membership fees, are fresh vegetables and fresh fruits.

However, MINIMAX members have fruits and vegetables available canned or frozen—and frozen fruits and vegetables are fresher than fresh and contain more vitamins and minerals, government and university scientists report.

Nationally-famous foods are available to members at wholesale prices, including Del Monte peaches, Campbell's soups, Best Foods mayonnaise, and almost all the other top national brand names.

The most popular drug items like Bayer's Aspirin and top brands of toothpaste, hair-spray, shampoo, lotions, and skin creams are also available at wholesale prices in the MINIMAX Buying Service superette.

The famous names in refrigerators, ranges, automatic washers, dishwashers—names as well known as Frigidaire, General Electric, Bendix, Westinghouse—are also available to members at wholesale prices which mean a saving of as much as several hundred dollars on a big ticket appliance.

Famous names in small appliances are also available at wholesale prices and MINIMAX members can get some completely free like a $45 Osterizer and a $35 ice cream maker on the MINIMAX profit-sharing referral plan.

The detailed savings at MINIMAX wholesale prices amount to $350 a year on foods, $100 a year on drug items and cosmetics, $100 a year on appliances and $50 a year on mileage.

You can find out how your family can become a member of the MINIMAX Wholesale Buying Service by phoning YE 1100stone 4-4478, or by stopping in at the MINIMAX plant office at 1918 East Street, Walnut Creek, or by filling in and mailing the coupon below.

MINIMAX is a new wholesale buying service under the direction of Bill Williamson, who has operated Williamson's Food Packing Plant in Walnut Creek for 23 years. Williamson has a top reputation for integrity and ability in food handling, and is able to use his 23 years of food experience in obtaining top brand names of food for MINIMAX members at wholesale prices.

The low average saving at MINIMAX wholesale prices on meats, vegetables, desserts and other grocery items is $7 per week, or more than $350 per year. Families who eat more than the bare essential foods find that their MINIMAX wholesale food savings often run $10 per week, but Williamson prefers to use the more conservative figure of a $7 per week saving.

HOW A MINIMAX MEMBER SAVES $250 PER YEAR ON OTHER ITEMS

In fact Williamson's figures on MINIMAX savings are conservative all the way through. He figures $250 per year savings on wholesale MINIMAX prices and drug items, cosmetics, appliances, and gas mileage—although most families can make a higher savings.

On appliances, for instance—$300 range, $600 Bendixes, $400 refrigerator, $300 dishwasher, $400 hi-fi, $300 in TV and radios, and $700 in several dozen small appliances—he figures the average family invests $3,000 every ten years. MINIMAX wholesale prices on appliances save a family ⅓ of this cost, or $1,000 over a ten-year period, or $100 per year.

The MINIMAX Superette has the top national brands of drug items available to members at wholesale prices, which represent a savings of from 10% to as much as 25% on famous names, and even as much as 50% on some famous brands.

Many housewives figure that they also save $50 a year or more on car mileage as a member of MINIMAX Wholesale Buying Service—because they do not have to shop so often, and because MINIMAX delivers large purchases to their home.

On The Lighter Side

by INA BLIESNER • YE 4-3818

(Guest Editor This Week Is Connie Kiely)

She's gone again! The Alameda County Fair in Pleasanton and a couple of favored fillies have lured me away from the hum-drum life of a columnist and here I am for a couple of weeks, virus and all.

While mothers are already beginning to wish that September would hurry up and get here, summer activities and travel are already well under way.

Graduate Marilyn Ageo was treated to a party by her parents, Marge and Ed, with 20 youngsters from her Stanley School class enjoying swimming and a barbecue supper. Marge and two children took off a few days later for the Los Angeles area to attend a family wedding and, of course, a visit to Disneyland. (Bet that place is really booming now.)

Off for those dreamy islands...

Feted at a bon voyage party hosted by Georgine and Les Malloy were Stan and Evelyn Ezneker who are now on their way to the Islands with son, Butch. Among the local guests were the R. M. Klitz and the Ray Sulprizio.

Lou and Jim King entertained more than 20 friends the other evening... most of the guests were from out of town, reaching out as far as Tacoma, Washington.

What Billie Campbell calls a "little get-together" was an evening of fun and good food as 50 friends gathered around the Don Campbells' pool recently. Guests were from the Lafayette-Walnut Creek area with most of them boasting Junior Chamber of Commerce or Kiwanis Club membership.

Lafayette Rotary Club had its share of good times with a swim party at Gladys and Jim Shiery's lovely home. This included some 60 Rotarians and wives.

Seems like our community-minded people are in a party mood. The Walnut Creek Jayceettes will have a dessert-bridge July 19 at Billie and Don Campbell's. Betty Merrill is in charge of arrangements which include about 20 tables set up around the swimming pool and patio.

Here's one that I haven't figured out yet, but I plan on talking to the ladies to see just how they arranged this! Jean Sulprizio and Betty Fulgham took off a few days ago and headed for Lake Tahoe. I KNOW they had a good time, they always do.

And more people on the go

The Jim Seamans of Orinda enjoyed a weekend at Pinecrest recently where they visited daughter Janie. Janie has been vacationing at the popular vacation spot.

Entertaining out-of-town guests are the Harold Caldwells of Orinda. Mrs. R. M. Saucett of Saratoga and her granddaughter, Boie Sweet, are enjoying the Caldwells' hospitality.

Can't help but feeling a bit nostalgic when I hear news like this. Virginia Holcombe of Orinda took off recently for Cleveland, Ohio, to attend her high school class reunion and for a visit with her sister. Husband, Ken, will fly back and join her before they return.

And here's a big fish story! Dorothy and George Parnham of Orinda left recently for Missouri to attend graduation of daughter Janice from Stephens College. All three Parnhams journeyed on to New York for a visit to the big city and then took a boat to Panama where they spent four days.

Here's a real fish story (with proof)

From there, the traveling Parnhams flew to Mexico City for a visit with friends. Friends and Parnhams had a delightful week in Acapulco (my dream!) and then, this is the way the story goes. Dorothy, it is alleged, caught a 98 pound, 8 foot, 8 inch sailfish.

They say it's true because George is having it mounted for the den wall which it will cover entirely (how'd they ever get it home?). And I can't even catch one small, evasive trout!

Ernie and Marge Starkman are beginning to feel more like a part of Berkeley than Orinda these days. Ernie has been attending a series of conferences at U.C. They'll be back with us as soon as the meetings are concluded.

The Mt. Diablo Therapy Center boasts of the invaluable assistance that comes from the Junior units which are made up of high school girls. One of these four groups is called the Doves and during the past year these ambitious young ladies staged a successful dessert-fashion show at the Willows in Orinda.

Besides this they participated in two cake sales, one at the Orinda Lucky store and the other at Lafieta in Lafayette. Many of the Dove members are June graduates, one of them being an exchange student from Austria.

Irmy Seiber was honored guest at a farewell party given by fellow Doves. It was a cake and punch affair with the traditional signing of year books. Irmy was presented with a beautiful pen and pencil set.

And more thanks, to all of you

Other Doves who are on the graduate list and get a great big thanks for all their good work for the Therapy Center are Bonnie Nickerson; Carolyn Bell, Nel Blossom; Cathy Cutler; Liz Davis; Heidi Devin; Jeanie Hunniutt; Jerry Klein; Joann Musante; Yvonne Nicolet; Sheryl Rasmussen; Shirley Rasmussen; Gail Sorem; Ann Stark; Kelo Thrallkill; Gretch Van Ummonson and Nancy Vitch. We know that their work at the Therapy Center is a real start toward future community assistance these young ladies will most undoubtedly enjoy.

Well, the boss says it's deadline time, so I'll save the rest for next week. Hope you have a fun-filled and safe 4th of July weekend. If you feel like swinging a paint brush, come on over.

Festivities Centered About Country Clubs for 'Fourth'

The Fourth will be a day of festivity at all of the country clubs in Central Contra Costa.

Highlighting the country club set parties will be feted at Diablo, Meadowbrook and Orinda.

Golfers will be in their glory at Orinda where the Fourth of July Invitational is scheduled.

An award dinner and dance will end the events Sunday evening.

Daytime diversions for the young set will be centered about the pool in the Canyon.

The Chalet at the Diablo Country Club had been reserved by members for the entire weekend.

Joining club members later for dinner on the terrace patio and dancing Friday night will be members who are entertaining in their own homes on the club grounds.

Meadowbrook will observe the Second Anniversary of its organization on the Fourth. Tonight there will be a cocktail party for the members after a day of golf.

Tomorrow swimming parties, golf and steak barbecue will be the high points of the day.

Clarisse LeDuc Marries Ensign James L. Pitto

A childhood friendship led to love and marriage June 21, when Rev. Wilfred Hodgkin pronounced the nuptial rites for Ensign James Louis Pitto, U. S. Navy Reserve, and Clarisse Alicia LeDuc.

The young people grew up together in Walnut Creek, and were "sweethearts" in school.

They plan to live in Long Beach after their Lake Tahoe honeymoon. Ensign Pitto is stationed on the carrier Yorktown.

The Rites took place in St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Walnut Creek. Rev. Hodgkin was assisted by Dr. P. Pierson Parker of New York, a friend of the family who conducted the marriage ceremonies for the senior Pittos and baptized the bridegroom.

The senior Mr. and Mrs. Louis R. Pitto are residents of Alderwood Road, Walnut Creek. Clarisse is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marc Francis LeDuc of Shepherd Road, Walnut Creek.

The bride is affiliated with Zeta Tau Alpha sorority at the University of California, and her husband graduated this month from UC and at the same time received his Navy reserve commission. He was a member of Phi Delta Theta.

Clarisse' brother, Raul, gave her in marriage. Her gown was made of white imported lace with inset satin panels and pearl-embroidered lace cap held her elbow length veil.

AN ARRANGEMENT of orchids and lily of the valley was on her prayer book.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister Jacqueline LeDuc who graduated from UCLA this year, and matron of honor was another sister, Mrs. Allen Trimble of Marysville.

Bridesmaids were Frances LeDuc, another sister, and two ZTA sorority sisters, Janet Thorne of Walnut Creek and Paula Marcucci of Berkeley.

James' best man was Army Lt. Hugh McBride of Walnut Creek, and ushers were four Phi Delta brothers, Ensign Richard Jacobson of Piedmont, Ensign Charles Green of Medford, Ore., Ensign Gerald Costanzo of San Francisco and Midshipman Richard Scrivner of Merced.

Acolyte was Roger, the bridegroom's brother.

A reception was held at the Pitto home.

Several luncheons, teas and social events were held in the days preceding the wedding.

The bridegroom's godmother, Mrs. Harold Song of San Francisco, gave a rehearsal dinner the previous evening at the El Nido Ranch, Lafayette.

Endorsed by the bride's sister, Mrs. Betty Hayes Dalton of La Jolla, Victoriana Carroll of San Francisco and Carol Schraft of Madison, New Jersey.

They were dressed alike in ballerina length blue lace and taffeta.

Sunburst pleats hugged the midriff and the bouffant skirts were finished with a bow in back. Completing their costumes were matching horseshair hats, the open crowns encircled with roses and leaves, and they carried crescent shaped arrangements of gardenias.

Robert Alexander of San Mateo served as best man, and those seating the guests were the bride's brother, Kenneth Swanson, Charles Gopetz, Thomas Johnson and Ronald Harmon.

Tim attended the University of Arizona where he was affiliated with Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, and San Francisco State College. He is a member of the University Club of San Francisco.

Mrs. Swanson wore a blue taffeta sheath with matching veil and slippers, finished with a white orchid. Mrs. Colvin was gowned in an imported French taffeta gown with matching veil and slippers, and a green orchid pinned to her waist.

Among the out-of-town guests here for the ceremony were the bride's paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Axel Swanson of Placentia, California; her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Plaskin of Silver Spring, Maryland. From Pasadena were Tim's relatives, Dr. and Mrs. Tully E. Warren, and Dr. Curtis E. Warren of Santa Barbara.

Tim and Chris have taken an early leave.

Beach Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wahl and Mr. and Mrs. George Wood of Orinda were among recent visitors to Pebble Beach.

Here is Completion Of Grand Jury Report

"The department should acquire extra help as the season approaches, to do the eradication of purple star thistle, wild artichoke and puncture vine. Additional spray rigs would more than pay in the eradication of noxious weeds.

"Use of County Prison Farm labor, with supervision by Department personnel, would be the greatest asset in this work, being it is seasonal and the county so large in area.

AIRPORT:

"We are of the opinion that the Master Plan is of utmost importance for the future efficient operation of this airport.

"This Master Plan should be put into reality as soon as possible, in order to utilize the best potential the field offers.

"Every effort should be made to assist in its Master Plan development in order to be able to accept all Federal and State funds whenever the opportunity arises.

LINUS CLAYES,
Chairman.

COUNTY PRISON FARM—
MARSH CREEK

"Buildings are in need of modernization and the water problem is paramount. Water now must be brought in by truck, making it very difficult for an efficient operation.

"In the committee's opinion, the amount of acreage, the present location and the past success of the operation should warrant a capitalization program for maintaining a permanent site.

COUNTY HOSPITAL—
MARTINEZ

"The committee was taken throughout the Hospital and each department was found to be immaculate. The committee compliments Dr. George Degnan for the cleanliness and the high quality of maintenance. A shortage of beds exists and a study for additional space should be forthcoming in the near future.

JUVENILE HALL—MARTINEZ

"This property was found to be in fair condition. The main problem is the flexibility of the building. It is a two-story building with a large basement and an elevator would expedite the problem of moving equipment from floor to floor.

HALL OF RECORDS—

MARTINEZ
"This building is in good condition throughout but there is a shortage of court rooms and a lack of storage space for the records of the various departments.
Also, various departments are spread throughout the building and are not in close proximity for efficient operation.

"A reallocation of the distribution of office space with sufficient area for storage and files for each department is recommended.

COURT HOUSE—MARTINEZ

"This building has recently been renovated and found to be in excellent condition. The main criticism of the building is the lack of storage space.

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING—

"This building was found to be in good condition but with various problems of ventilation. The storage space is also very critical here.

COUNTY HEALTH CENTER—
MARTINEZ

"This building was just recently completed. According to the occupants, the building is satisfactory but has a lack of storage space.

COUNTY JAIL—MARTINEZ

"In comparison with the rest of the buildings in the area, the building is below par. The lighting and acoustics are very poor.
The installation of an elevator for the transporting of prisoners should be studied.

"The lack of screens on the exterior of the jail should be remedied to bring the security of the jail up to standard. The lack of storage space here is critical.

FLOOD CONTROL AND WATER CONSERVATION

"After observing the operation of the Contra Costa County Flood Control and Water Conservation District, the committee has resolved this opinion.

"The controlling factor in any construction program is money, or the lack of it.

"The major problem of the Contra Costa County Flood Control and Water Conservation District has been lack of adequate financing.

"The work which the District has accomplished on San Ramon, Las Trampas, Grayson, Lafayette and Pine Creeks has been the result of getting the most out of the tax dollar by the cooperation and financial help from such governmental agencies as the Soil Conservation Service of the U. S.

Department of Agriculture and the State Department of Water Resources.

"It is hoped that this source of help will continue, and that there may be further help from the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers on the control of Walnut Creek itself.

"Even with the fullest cooperation of these agencies, the control of the major streams is still a long way off.

"The floods of December, 1955, and April, 1958, have brought into sharper focus another facet of the problem—that of the local areas affected by the floods. In both of the above mentioned floods there were certain local areas throughout the County that received the brunt of the waters and a material amount of the resultant damage—damage in the millions of dollars.

"Until such time as the streams are brought under control, these local areas will continue to be disaster areas in the event of more high water.

"The Flood Control District, with the present inadequate financing, imposed by tax limit, cannot effectively aid the people in these areas.

"In the majority of these areas these people cannot finance the solution of their drainage problems and the question arises as to whether or not they should have to, without help from the County as a whole.

"The people of the county expect certain services on a county-wide participating basis such as police protection, public roads, health protection, etc. Why can't the same apply to Flood Control and drainage problems?

"The most practical solution appears to be a substantial increase in the county-wide flood control tax rate sufficient to correct flood control and draining problems by financing them in whole, or in part, depending on the circumstances of the areas involved. This would require State legislative action to accomplish.

"It is the recommendation of this committee that this study be activated at once with the proper authorities. . . .

SIDNEY S. LIPPOW,
Chairman.

Everyone Can Afford Summer Shade Trees

You may not be able to afford a swimming pool or a vacation in the mountains, but everyone can afford a shade tree or two to make summer more livable. So says the California Association of Nurserymen, who remind us that summer shade trees can even now be purchased in large containers at your nursery.

When selecting your shade trees it is important to analyze how cold the winters are where you live and how much sunshine is actually desirable. Evergreen trees tend to keep out the sun during the winter months so, depending on location, you may want to consider the deciduous trees.

Among the more popular evergreen trees in our State are the Eucalyptus, Magnolia, including M. grandiflora and M. grandiflora St. Mary's, Acacias, Evergreen Elm, Pepper trees and many more.

Deciduous favorites include the maple, including silver maple, Norway maple and broadleaf maple, fruitless mulberry, silk tree, sycamore, umbrella tree, walnut, willow, ash, cottonwood—to mention just a few.

Don't make the mistake of planting the right tree in the wrong place. Some shade trees grow very rapidly—the mulberry, for example. Unless you allow sufficient space for such a tree it may prove too large for your lot. Other trees, such as the willow, have tremendous root structures and should not be planted where they may later interfere with a sewer or water system. Overhead telephone wires should be considered when you plant trees that grow excessively tall. Most shade trees will not do too well in the face of strong winds. Other trees don't mind wintry gusts and will serve you well as a windbreak. In contrast to the fast-growing shade trees for people who are in a hurry, there are such slow growers as the live oak. For the ultimate effect you are striving to create, you may desire some trees that fall in between these two extremes. Your nurseryman is your best source of reliable information about which trees to plant in different positions on your property.

Red Roses Easy to Grow In Your Own Back Yard

The Rockrose (cistus) is a noble shrub in that it asks for very little and gives great deal. According to the California Association of Nurserymen, it is a "natural" for many areas in the state. When established it is thoroughly drought-resistant. It actually prefers poor soil and will withstand hot sun and desert climate. Ocean winds will not affect it in the least.

The Rockrose is evergreen with an abundance of average size open white or pinkish flowers. Since they require so little attention, one of the most popular places to plant Rockroses is on dry bank or a planting strip or some other place where water is not handy.

About the only attention that Rockroses need is good drainage and frequent cutting-back of old canes. This will keep them neat. Otherwise they tend to become quite scraggy after a time. However, when you take the pruning shears in hand to do this job, be careful that you do not cut all the stems back at one time, since they cannot stand a severe clipping.

Faye Davis-Edgar Sayre Recite Vows in Orinda

Orinda's Santa Maria Church was the setting recently for the wedding of Faye Davis and Edgar A. Sayre III.

The pair honeymooned at Lake Tahoe and in the South and are now awaiting service orders for the bridegroom.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Franklyn Harvey Penrock of Walnut Creek and the late Austin Davis of Honolulu. For the afternoon ritual she wore a gown of silk taffeta and organza designed with applique lace motifs embroidered in sequins and pearls. The veil was attached to a lace cap, and she carried stephanotis and fleurs d'amour.

The attendants were dressed in watermelon shaded Italian silk with tucked cummerbunds and their flowers were anthuriums. Mrs. William H. Goodhue of Honolulu was her sister's matron of honor, and bridesmaids were a sister-in-law, Mrs. Austin D. S. Davis of San Mateo; Mrs. Marvin A. Shulman of Sacramento, the bride's sister; Lellani Andrews, Judy Cunningham of Huntsville, Tex., Cynthia Coats of Hillsborough, the latter two former Pine Manor Junior College classmates of the bride; and Mrs. Donald Muller of San Jose. Brooksie Goodhue, the bride's niece, was flower girl, and Gregory Penrock, nephew of the bride, was page.

Jack S. Duke was best man. Ushers were Marvin A. Shulman, Austin D. S. Davis, Franklyn H. Penrock Jr., Philip N. Lucas, William E. Thompson and Charles A. Taylor, a UC Delta Upsilon fraternity brother of the bridegroom.

The reception was held at the Penrock home in Walnut Creek. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Alden T. Darrow of Sacramento and Edgar A. Sayre Jr. of Sacramento.
